Dear Senator Kookesh,

I understand that House Bill 3, requiring restricted term driver's licenses for holders of an indefinite visa, is now in the Senate State Affairs Committee. I urge you to let it die there. This bill is a solution in search of a problem.

Alaska does not to my knowledge have a major problem with undocumented workers. In my many years experience teaching at the University of Alaska I found the immigrant community to be hard- working and motivated and to contribute greatly to Alaska's economy.

To impose such petty bureaucratic hassles on them is a slap in the face.

It also lays an additional burden on state employees at a time when we are trying to streamline state government.

Sincerely,

Diana Conway
