FISCAL NOTE

STATE OF ALASKA
2012 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. HB 252

Analysis

Bill Language:

This bill would exempt corporations from the corporate income tax if they are determined to be a "qualified small business" as that term is defined in Section 1202 of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) as that section read on January 1, 2012. Under IRC Section 1202, a "qualified small business" is a corporation with no more than $50 million in aggregate assets and is engaged in a "qualified trade or business". A "qualified trade or business" is any business other than personal services, banking, finance, insurance, farming, oil and gas, mining, hotel, motel, or restaurant. Taxpayers engaged in businesses such as construction, manufacturing, transportation, retail, wholesale, and utilities would qualify for the exemption. Taxpayers must also use at least 80% of their assets in the active conduct of the "qualified trade or business."

Revenues:

It is difficult to determine exactly how many companies would qualify for the exemption as, although DOR is able to identify those taxpayers with $50 million or less in aggregate assets and the primary industry in which they are engaged, DOR cannot ascertain whether 80% or more of the corporation's assets are being used in the conduct of a qualified trade or business.

Expenditures:

This bill will exempt corporations from Alaska's corporate income tax based on certain criteria identified in IRC Section 1202. IRC Section 1202 is an individual income tax provision which allows individuals who invest in "qualified small businesses" to exclude 50% of the gain on the sale of stock from their individual income tax. IRC Section 1202 does not exempt "qualified small businesses" from federal corporate income tax. Therefore, corporations which believe they are exempt from Alaska corporate income tax would still be required to file an Alaska corporate income tax return along with a statement claiming this exemption. This bill would require the Department of Revenue to make independent determinations as to whether corporations, which believe they meet the requirements of IRC Section 1202 and are exempt from Alaska corporate income tax, are, in fact, exempt. The Department will be required to review as many as 1,000 tax returns or more each year to ascertain if a corporation meets the federal guidelines. The Department expects it will need three additional Corporate Income Tax Auditors II to ensure the proper administration of this legislation.
