Lindsay,

I apologize for the delay in getting this information back to you. Please see the list below that outlines the number of licensees for each board. The investigator that oversees the AEELS Board also oversees five other boards/professional licensing groups: CON, EAD, HIN, MEC, and UST. The last question that you had regarding AEELS being subdivided is not something that the Department is aware of. In order for the board to separate, it would require a statutory change. Please let me know if you have any further questions or concerns. Thanks!
