FISCAL NOTE #3

STATE OF ALASKA
2012 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. SB 219

Analysis

LL 0717 proposes to make changes to the Alaska Land Act that are intended to increase efficiency, certainty and timeliness of DNR's land permitting, leasing, mining and land sales programs to permitting applicants.

These proposed changes are not anticipated to have a fiscal impact on the department or the State with the exception of the proposed revision to AS 38.05.212(a), Section 12 of the bill. Under that proposed revision the department would have the authority to exempt, by regulation, small operations from the production royalty. While the definition and threshold level for consideration would need to be established through regulation, DNR anticipates that the net reduction in actual royalties paid to the state under this exemption could be around $10,000 per year. This is because mining operations are allowed to deduct certain operating costs against any royalty due to the state and it is anticipated that the deductions allowed most small operations would equal or exceed any royalty due. Most small operations actually pay no royalty but are still required to go through the accounting and filing operations. The primary benefit of this proposed statute change would come from the cost savings of both DNR and the small operators' administrative efforts to track, calculate and report minimal royalty payments. DNR would then be able to apply this savings in staff time to other, more pressing mining issues.

Because the number of small operations and the threshold level for this exemption must be established through the regulatory process, and because of the variability of the price of metals, DNR cannot provide an estimate of the actual reduction in royalty income at this time. As such the actual reduction to the state's revenue is indeterminate.

The other sections of the bill will either create efficiencies or prevent inefficiencies. The revisions will benefit both the applicant and the State. The applicant will be saved time and cost by the changes.
