Sectional Analysis

HB 23: Computer Privacy

Section 1 establishes that the crime of “criminal use of a computer” is committed when a person, without having a right to do so, installs on a computer a keystroke logger or other device that can record data being entered into the computer, or enables a device that can wirelessly record keystrokes or other data entered.

Section 2 establishes an affirmative defense for the offense created above that the person installing or enabling the device owns the computer on which it is installed.
