Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

The Interior had record rainfall during 2014 causing erosion on many miles of Tanana Valley State Forest (TVSF) roads and scouring of bridge abutments, which resulted in noncompliance with certain Best Management Practices (BMPs) of the Alaska Forest Resources and Practices Act (FRPA) AS 41.17 and 11 AAC 95. This project will repair Tanana Valley State Forest (TVSF) roads and bridges due to rainfall erosion that occurred in 2014.

Project Description/Justification:

- $896,000 of road work needed to return to compliance with FRPA includes:
 - Repair Standard Creek Road, Cache Creek Road, and other heavily used roads totaling 12 miles of heavy reconstruction, including development of material pit site at a total cost of $886.000
 - Repair Spencer Creek Bridge at a total cost of $10,000
- If the State should close roads due to noncompliance with FRPA in certain sections, the result would be closure of additional miles. For example, if the five to seven miles of damaged sections of Standard Creek Road are not repaired to FRPA BMP standards, then the entire thirty miles of Standard Creek Road plus associated secondary roads totaling twenty miles would be subject to closure.
- State Forest roads are used as fuel breaks and also provide access routes for equipment dispatched to initial attack wildland fires. Catching wildland fires while they are small saves the state millions of dollars annually and access and time to respond are key components of achieving this result.

- This funding is necessary to ensure the State (DOF) completes its existing partnership obligation to other State and Private entities, as well as the forest products industry and public access. These partnerships and public uses include:
 - Alaska Department of Fish and Game (access to research projects, habitat improvement, hunting and fishing)
 - University of Alaska (access to research projects and timber harvest)
 - Mental Health Trust (access to their land for timber harvest)
 - Doyon Exploration (access to oil and natural gas exploration areas)
 - Toghotthele Native Corporation (access to their land for timber harvest)
 - o Fairbanks North Star Borough (access to their lands for timber harvest and land sales)
 - Forest products purchasers and their employees access to current and future timber, biomass, and firewood sales. This includes Superior Pellet Fuels, which is a relatively new industry and is dependent upon these roads for delivery of logs for manufacturing its pellets and pellet logs.
 - Public access for recreation, personal use (such as berry picking and firewood gathering), and subsistence harvest of natural resources.
 - State Forest roads are used to provide access to designated firewood cutting areas for those who rely on wood as a primary or supplemental source of heat.
- Unless these roads are brought into compliance with FRPA, a significant portion of the State's active and proposed forest products sales would be at risk of not being harvested. Using the Standard Creek Road as an example, the following sales could be impacted:

CCF means 100 cubic feet. MBF means 1,000 board feet.

- o Active: 78 total active sales with 71,000 CCF (~30,000 MBF) volume
 - Standard Creek Road: 14 active sales with about 13,000 CCF (~5,330 MBF) volume, remaining volume spread over the other 64 sales
- Proposed: 111,194 CCF (~45,590 MBF) For 64 proposed sales (from Five Year Schedule)
 - Standard Creek Rd: 11 Proposed sales with about 413,800 CCF (~169,700 MBF) volume, remaining spread over the other 53 sales
- The current value of sawtimber is $23.83/CCF
- The following is a list of currently active timber sales in the Fairbanks Area. Many businesses and their employees rely on these sales for their livelihoods.

Transfer from the general fund to the Alaska Housing Capital Corporation account to cover an over-appropriation of approximately $13.3 million. A prior year appropriation was not recorded correctly in the account resulting in an overstated balance that was used for FY2015 appropriations. FY2015 appropriations included $22.5 million for the State Library, Archives, and Museum Facility Construction, $40.6 million of the University of Alaska Engineering Building, and a $37.5 million fund transfer to the Alaska Capital Income Fund.

Alternatively, the FY2015 year transfer to the Alaska Capital Income Fund can be amended and reduced by $13.3 million or a transfer from the Alaska Capital Income Fund to the Alaska Housing Capital Corporation account for $13.3 million could cover the over-appropriated amount. If this appropriation is not received there will not be sufficient funding to cover outstanding appropriations.

FUND TRANSFERS. (a) The sum of $13,300,000 is appropriated from the general fund to the Alaska Housing Capital Corporation account.

The commercial vessel passenger account has a shortfall due to projected payments to ports of call exceeding the initial Department of Revenue projections and authorization for appropriations exceeding the current available cash balance. A transfer from the gambling tax account to the commercial vessel passenger account will cover this shortfall. If this appropriation is not received there will not be sufficient funding to cover outstanding appropriations.

The sum of $4,750,000 of the receipts collected under AS 43.35.210 and held in the large passenger vessel gaming and gambling tax account (AS 43.35.220) is appropriated to the commercial vessel passenger tax account (AS 43.52.230(a)).
