

Restoring civics education and ensuring that all high school graduates are ready for active, engaged citizenship.

The Civics Education Initiative is simple in concept. It requires high school students, as a condition for graduation, to pass a test on 100 basic facts of U.S. history and civics taken from the United States Citizenship Civics Test – the test all immigrants applying for U.S. citizenship must pass. Yet, according to the National Assessment of Educational Progress, only 24 percent of U.S. high school students are proficient in civics, and studies by the Annenberg Foundation show that a third of U.S. citizens can't name even one branch of our federal government. That's why the Joe Foss Institute created the Civics Education Initiative.

The Civics Education Initiative legislation allows individual schools to administer the test in a way the school deems as adequate to ensure the requirements are followed. Students may take the test any time during their high school careers and may take the test as many times as necessary to pass. By using this well-established test and the study materials that are already easily available online and for free, CEI legislation has next to no implementation costs.

The Civics Education Initiative 2016

The Civics Education Initiative is sponsored by the Civics Proficiency Institute, an affiliate of the Joe Foss Institute. The goal is to pass legislation in all 50 states by September 17, 2017 – the 230th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution. As of January, 2016 nine states (AZ, ND, SD, UT, ID, TN, SC, LA, WI) have passed CEI legislation.
