FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2015 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. HB 11

Analysis

SSHB 11 restricts public access on the Alaska Court System website to criminal records that resulted in acquittal or dismissal of charges. It is the intent of the legislature that, to the extent practicable, the Alaska Court System remove from its public Internet website records of criminal cases that were disposed of before the effective date of this Act by acquittal of all charges, by dismissal of all charges, or by acquittal of some charges and dismissal of the remaining charges, to the extent that AS 22.35.030, enacted by sec. 2 of this Act, requires that the records may not be published.

This bill as amended has no effect on the ability of Division of Corporations, Business and Professional Licensing (CBPL) investigators to access information that may be required for boards or the division to evaluate the fitness to practice of professional licensees, as it does not restrict division investigators from accessing the data by official means. There are no negative effects on the board or division's ability to utilize records of these cases if the circumstances are statutory grounds for license action. It is important to note that the division has access to criminal justice information and results of an applicant or licensee's national criminal history record check under AS 12.62.160.

The Division of Corporations, Business, and Professional Licensing does not anticipate fiscal impact from this legislation.
