Nielsen: Tobacco "All Channel" Data Through 12/26

Uptrading & Strong Pricing Continues to Drive Cig Category

- Cig $ Sales Show Continued Strength Driven by Strong Pricing All channel cig $ sales increased +3.0% during the recent 4-wk period ending 12/26/15 (+3.1% for 12-wks; +2.5% for 52-wks), on very strong +3.5% pricing and sequential improvements in eq. unit volume of -0.5% (-0.7% for 12-wks). As discussed in our "Tobacco Talk" surveys, the stronger tobacco consumer continues to up-trade to premium brands a plus for the category. We expect strong manufacturer pricing and profit growth to continue in 2016.
- RAI Cig $ Sales Remain Strong, Up +4.0%, Driven By Robust Newport $ Sales Growth RAI cig $ sales increased +4.0% this period outpacing the industry's +3.0% growth, driven by strong +3.4% pricing and improved +0.6% volume trends (+0.1% for 12-wks; flat for 52-wks). Newport was the big contributor, with $ sales up an impressive +5.6%, trending above its 52-wk average (5.2%) and showcasing Reynold's strong execution 6-months post the Lorillard acquisition. Camel $ sales were up 2.9% on strong +3.0% net pricing and unit volume of -0.10%, a sequential improvement vs -1.2% for 12-wks.
- MO Cig $ Sales Decelerate, Up +2.6% vs +2.9% for 12-wks No Change to Marlboro Share MO cig $ sales were driven primarily by pricing (+3.3%), offset by soft volume growth (-0.7%). Marlboro $ sales (+2.0%) reflected strong pricing (+3.6%), offset by -1.5% unit declines. Marlboro lost 45 bps of retail share, bringing its unit share to 46.9%, roughly unchanged vs the November period.
- IMT $ Sales Decline -1.8% on Pressured Volumes IMT continued to show weak unit volume growth of -3.3% (vs -3.9% for 12-wks) as volume for three of its top cig brands (Maverick, Kool and Salem) declined 3.0% on avg. IMT $ share declined 35bps Y/Y to 7.4% with Winston holding its $ share relatively flat at 2.0% on higher promo activity (-2.3% pricing in Dec vs -1.7% 12k-wks).
- Smokeless Tobacco $ Sales Continue to Improve led by Grizzly (RAI) and Copenhagen (MO) Smokeless tobacco $ sales grew +7.2% during the recent period vs +6.5% for 12-wks. RAI's Grizzly and MO's Copenhagen led the pack with Grizzly $ sales up +11.0% (vs +10.7% for 12-wks) and Copenhagen up +9.5% (vs +8.8% for 12-wks).
- E-Cig $ Sales Remain Weak, But Show Sequential Improvement Despite Persistently Soft Pricing All channel (mass channel + c-stores) ecig $ sales were down -14.7% in the recent period (-17.8% for 12-wks). Unit volume trends improved -1.1% (-4.9% for 12-wks), but pricing remained soft (-13.7%). Though e-cig y/y pricing has been in persistent decline, we believe it is at least partially due to difficulty in capturing SKUs of the evolving vapor category and proliferation of vapors/tanks/mods (VTM) and refills which tend to have lower retail prices.
- E-Cigs RAI Still Market Leader in $ Share RAI reinforced its position as the share leader in all channel e-cigs with 37.9% $ share, reflecting a strengthening trend, sequentially and Y/Y. Fontem U.S. (blu eCigs), a subsidiary of Imperial at 21.1%, Logic at 14.6%, and NJoy 3.7%. MO's 7.9% $ share was impressive given that it lapped a tough year ago comp (13.0%) and reflected strong consumer uptake of its new MarkTen XL (+3.7% share in Dec) and Green Smoke (+0.3%). While Nielsen's data is useful directionally, we believe the e-cig unit and pricing data is difficult to rely on given Nielsen is still not reporting "equivalent" units in this category.

Back-Testing - Nielsen's C-Store Database Trends A Decent Indicator of Cigarette Companies' Volume Trends

We back-tested Nielsen's C-Store scanner data to gain a better understanding of Nielsen's strength as a leading indicator of cigarette companies' volume performance. We are pleased that this data is highly correlated, when cigarette companies' quarterly volumes were on a one quarter lag. Therefore, we feel that Nielsen's C-store data can be used to provide a general sense (especially directionally) of how volumes for the cigarette companies should trend.

We downloaded company-level cigarette unit sales for MO and RAI from Nielsen's C-store database (starting with 2Q10) and modified the numbers proportionally so that the 4-week period for Nielsen aligned with the companies' reporting quarters. We used year-over-year growth rates for unit sales for these companies to see how they compare with the companies' reported volume growth rates and to see how strong the correlation is between these data. We analyzed a total of 22 quarters' worth of year-over-year percentage change data. The correlation between MO's reported volume growth and Nielsen's all channel database was 0.29. The correlation between RAI and Nielsen was 0.70.

Exhibit 8. Estimated 2015 $ Sales of the U.S. Vapor Market

E-cig category dollar sales were $58MM this period implying about $850MM annual sales in Nielsentracked channels. This combined with vapor sales in non-Nielsen tracked channels (such as vape shops) plus online sales suggest the vapor category in total was ~$3.3B in 2015 in the U.S, slightly below our previous estimate of $3.5B.
