

Tamara L. Rose, DVM

Experience

Alaska State Board of Veterinary Examiners, Member 2012-present

Mixed Animal Veterinarian 2006-present

- Owner and operator of T Rose Veterinary Service LLC.; a mobile veterinary practice serving Fairbanks and surrounding areas.
- Primary services include equine, ruminant and small animal medicine and surgery. I also serve as the Fairbanks North Star Borough shelter veterinarian.

Bakery Co-Owner 2006-present

- Co-owner of Lulu's Bread & Bagel

Veterinarian 2004-2006

- Staff veterinarian at Aurora Animal Clinic, Fairbanks Alaska.
- Provided medical and surgical services for busy, 5-doctor small animal practice.

Veterinarian 2004-2006

- Large animal veterinarian at Sonoma-Marine Veterinary Service, Petaluma California.
- Provided veterinary services for dairy and beef farmers and horse owners.

Education

Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine, University of California at Davis 2002

Received the John W. Kendrick Food Animal Practice Proficiency Award.

Masters of Science in Ecology, UC Davis 1997

Thesis concerned the morphogeologic and invertebrate disturbance due to water reclamation projects on the South Fork Yuba drainage in the Sierra Nevada Range of California.

Graduate work in Epidemiology, UC Davis 1997-1998

Conducted graduate work towards a PhD in Epidemiology (did not complete degree due to acceptance to vet school). Completed two years of coursework and a research project involving the protozoal parasite Cryptosporidium parvum.

Bachelors of Science in Environmental Engineering, Humboldt State University 1989

A civil engineering degree with an emphasis on water quality.

Bachelors of Arts in Zoology, Humboldt State University 1989

Interests

I've owned and trained Alaskan huskies and competed in the 2010 Iditarod and the 2011 Yukon Quest. I also raise Icelandic sheep, though don't race them. I enjoy long distance trail running, cycling and cross-country skiing.