Good afternoon again,

In addition to my other correspondence, please support SB89 and SB80, regarding parental rights and the Dept. of Education, which were introduced today by Senator Dunleavy. This is of utmost importance to our school children and families since some testing has already begun and will begin in earnest next week.

Thank you,

To whom it may concern:

There are serious questions surrounding the upcoming AMP testing and the individual data that will be collected on each student taking the test. This information will then be available to a plethora of people who have no right to that longitudinal data including politicians. This information is available in the i3 grant that Alaska applied for and received.

Please consider carefully SB89 and SB80 concerning parental rights and the Department of Education that was intruded by Senator Dunleavy today. The decisions you make today concerning our children's privacy could affect the rest of their life.

I appreciate your taking time to read this.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Appel

Dear Sirs:

I am writing urging you to please support any legislation that repeals common core and tests like the AMP. Please vote to protect student privacy and disallow data mining.

HB 85 is being introduced by Representative Reinbold. "An Act relating to college and career readiness assessments for secondary students; and relating to restrictions on the collection, storage, and handling of student data."

Subject: Standardized Test

Good Morning,

I 100% support your bill regarding parents rejecting standardized test.

My son is not taking anymore standardized tests.

His principal has been every supportive.

I find it interesting the ADN articles states "Currently, Alaska students who do not take standardized exams do not face repercussions, but no laws say the refusal is allowable, according to Deputy Education Commissioner Les Morse."

He should law there is NO LAW making the kids take the test. I find this highly disturbing.

I am extremely concerned that in 2018, 50% of the teacher's and principal's evaluation is based on how the kids do on the AMP. There is a lot evidence that prove kids don't care about these tests and now 50% of a teacher's and principal's evaluation is going to be based on these test?

This needs to addressed.

Thank you for introducing the Bill

Subject: P-20W, AMP Testing and parental rights

The compilation of student data, from local to state to federal is unacceptable. The assurance that there is no personal data included in the upper levels is a false hope. On the federal data site it states that it is against the law to aggregate the data and extrapolate individual information from it. This clearly tells me that it is possible. Laws only apply if someone is caught. And it is evident that criminals will not obey the laws that exist. Data on my children belongs to my children. It is my responsibility as their parent to protect it. The convenience of student data at the state level is not justification to bypass the rights of individuals. Student data should stay at the local school district. The same goes for curriculum decisions.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

My name is Mike Coons from Palmer and this is for my views.

I fully support SB 89. Major reason is that over the decades less and less control by parents on what their children get "taught" in schools. I would like to expand Section 1 Sec. 14.03.016. (1), line 13 "involving human reproduction, health, or sex education".

For far to long environmentalism has been taught over that of tried and true science of conservationism. Then is the teachings of our nations history with major revisionism and even rewriting the Bill of Rights. This is not a "recent" situation since when I was a sophomore back in the late 1960's our World History teacher taught communism over that of our Republic and was a card carrying Communist. That resulted in me being kicked out of class for standing for my nation, twice! Of recent events Islam is being taught in classrooms, but yet under the guise of "separation of church and State" Christianity is not allowed.

For those parents that are involved in their children's education, they must have the ability to say yes or no to what their children are being taught. They must have the ability to take their children out of classes that are one sided, teach outside of family belief, either religiously, or teaches Politically Correct revision of our great nation!

Lastly, if a child completes a semester, completes all assignments, quizzes, tests during the class and gets a C or above, there is no need to add the AMP testing or any other testing. So long as the class is fulfilling the "standards", and the child is passing, then that report card of a C or better is all that is needed! Much less the cost savings on not doing testing that proves nothing other than a means to follow the far left data mining and control over education.

Vote Yes on SB 89!

Subject: In support of SB 89!

I am communicating my support for SB 89, the Parental Rights bill sponsored by Senator Dunleavy.

It is a good bill, but I would suggest that it could go a bit further:

If a school board is foolish enough to invite Planned Parenthood into their schools, that's their business ... but the parents have a right to 1). opt their kids out with plenty of notice, but also 2). demand "equal time" with alternative viewpoints --- viewpoints that may or may not have a spiritual message to them.

Such a viewpoint has nothing to do with an established state religion.

And the asinine courts' can bray like a jackass all they want, but a statute could remove them from any jurisdiction in the matter.

Human beings have souls and eternal destinies. Sex education that ignores such a reality is incomplete. The destructive activity of promiscuity does more than put physical health at risk. It puts the spiritual and psychological human totality at risk as well.

I don't think that a bill, if amended, needs to mandate such alternative viewpoints, but no statute or court ought to stop a school district from teaching this, if it wants to.

It is utter hypocrisy to offend families and cram down unwilling throats a secular sex education agenda, but not permit the alternative.

And, yes, parents can opt their kids out of that sort of presentation, too.

Freedom is a great idea, if we could only rediscover it.

Thanks for sponsoring Senate Bill 89 I believe we need more bills to protect our rights since we seem to have totally lost the understanding of Limited Government.

Personally I prefer the original limits of here is a list of what the government can do. But apparently that does not work anymore and we will have to either reeducate the people which seems impossible in our current schools leaving no other option than to legislate individual protections from the government that is there to protect us. It is a sad state of affairs but I appreciate your service and your efforts.

God Bless you,

Dear Senators,

I'm writing to encourage to please give this bill a thorough hearing and in the process, understand the concerns of us parents. I homeschool through IDEA, Galena's correspondence program. I actually support the concept of a Common Core curriculum, more rigorous learning standards, and I want standardized tests, but I feel that much of the new standards, including the AMPs, has been rushed, not vetted thoroughly, and I have concerns as a parent and teacher both about content and privacy. I understand the legislative session is swiftly coming to a close and would hope for and request swift action on this bill and will be following closely.
