FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2015 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

Under the current statute, AS 13.26.210(b) prohibits individuals from being appointed a conservator of the estate of a protected person when a conflict of interest exists. However, the statute also provides that even when there is a conflict of interest, the court may appoint the “spouse, adult child, parent or sibling of” the protected person if the court determines that the conflict of interest is not substantial and the appointment is the best interest of the protected person. This bill would amend the statute to broaden the scope of persons who can be appointed by a court despite a conflict of interest to include “an adult related by blood, marriage, or adoption to” of the person being protected.

We foresee no fiscal impact to the Department of Law should this bill become law.
