Alaska State Legislature House Finance Committee,

Alaska's vast land and water resources, and diverse habitats support healthy and abundant fish and wildlife. Our wildlife has a significant positive impact on Alaska residents and communities, and on our economy.

Two Federal programs provide valuable funding to States to assist with projects that restore, conserve and manage wildlife and their habitat, as well as enhance safe public access to these resources. However, due to budget cuts, Alaska will be losing out on these funds for lack of Alaska Division of Fish and Game staff to administer the funds.

We are writing in support of adding funding to the State budget to restore ADF&G staffing to a level at which the division can administer Pittman-Robertson and Dingell-Johnson federal grants. Without it, the State is poised to forfeit millions of dollars in federal funding for habitat protection and public access programs.

Responsible use and development of our lands and waters is important to Alaska's economy and culture in terms of quality of life, money spent in the state and job creation. Over the last thirty years, Dingell-Johnson funds have completed more than 160 capital improvement projects to provide new and improved access to waters throughout the state. Homer's harbor users recently benefitted from the program. Dingell-Johnson funds helped upgrade the load and launch ramp.

Likewise, Pittman-Robertson Wildlife Restoration Program funds have helped rehabilitate and enhance wildlife habitat and populations, and provided public access for hunting and other wildlife-oriented recreation. The City of Homer has Pittman-Robertson eligible trail and wayside projects and a dedicated fund for the required match which would provide public access for wildlife-oriented recreation.

Adjusting funding levels for ADF&G will allow the State to leverage these important Federal dollars which can be put to work for the benefit of Alaska and its communities.

Sincerely,

Mayor Bryan Zak
