FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2021 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

This bill makes changes to state laws relating to delinquent minors, which are necessary to comply with the federal Juvenile Justice Reform Act of 2018.

Specifically, the bill amends AS 33.30.011 relating to the duties of the commissioner of the Department of Corrections (DOC) to require DOC to enter into agreements with the Department of Health and Social Services (DHSS) for the detention and care of minors committed to the custody of DOC, and amends AS 47.12 relating to delinquent minors by adding a new section outlining the process for handling minors charged or tried as an adult, including circumstances under which detention in an adult correctional facility is permitted.

Under current law, a person under 18 years of age who is being charged or tried as an adult is held in a DOC facility with sight separation from adult offenders. This bill provides that:

- Unless found by a court to be in the interest of justice, a minor being charged and tried as an adult shall be held in a juvenile detention facility, and transferred to a DOC facility upon turning 18 years of age;
- A minor held in an adult correctional facility for more than four hours to attend court proceedings must be separated by sight and sound from adult offenders; and
- If there is no available juvenile detention facility or a minor poses a serious security risk, a court may order in the interest of justice that a minor be held in an adult correctional facility with or without sight and sound separation from adult offenders for no more than 180 days, unless extended by the court or waived by the minor. Additionally, the court must hold a hearing every 30 days to review the determination.

The average daily number of offenders under 18 years of age incarcerated at a DOC facility in FY2020 was six, with a five-year daily average of seven.

Though passage of this bill is expected to reduce the number of minors in the adult correctional system, there are no anticipated savings associated with the reduction given the low number of minors being held in DOC facilities.

A zero fiscal note is being submitted based on DOC's current operational practices for housing minors, the assumption of a no-cost agreement between DOC and DHSS, and that no facility modifications will be needed to accommodate the sight and sound requirements. Should DOC be required to pay DHSS for the detention and care of minors committed to the custody of DOC, the annual cost to DOC would range from $0 - $449,271 based on DOC's daily cost of care rate of $175.84 ($175.84/day x 365 days/year x 7 minors/year average).
