What is an All Payer-Claims Data Base?

An All-Payer Claims Data Base (APCD) is a large database that includes medical, pharmaceutical, and dental claims. These databases are hosted, directly or through a contract, by states.

Public (i.e. Medicaid) and private payors (i.e. insurance companies and third-party adjusters) submit the data, in a pre-determined standard format, to the state.

Who has an established APCD?

If not now, when? If not us, who?

If we are to continue with our partners, towards the Quadruple Aim of Health Care – we need to take the first step.

And the No Surprise Bill Act under the Consolidated Appropriation Act of 2021 – just gave us a gentle nudge.
