In March of 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic and to protect the public's health and safety, the Chief Justice issued a special order that generally suspended jury trials in criminal and civil cases. That decision to suspend jury trials was reviewed and discussed at least weekly, and was later extended a number of times as COVID-19 case counts continued to present a public health problem. The general suspension was modified and some cases did proceed to a jury trial. Still, because of the general suspension from March 2020 through January 2022 (when most jury trials are authorized to resume), the court has a high number of criminal cases that are awaiting trial, and that should now be scheduled. The court system is unable to use the existing courtrooms in some locations, however, because they are too small to accommodate social distancing with the number of people that must be present. The court system therefore intends to hold jury trials in alternative locations in many communities to avoid further delays in resolving cases. This funding is for the rental costs of off-site facilities, plus the accompanying costs of "moving" jury trials to a separate place. It involves (1) costs for purchasing computers, servers, and recording equipment to capture the official trial record, (2) greatly increased costs of telephonic conference calls that the courts have used and will continue to use for hearings in preparation for jury trials, and (3) costs for portable (movable) security scanners and contracted security screening personnel for the new locations so that court employees, jurors, and members of the public are not at risk. This request also includes the cost of hiring additional in-court clerks so that the courtrooms are adequately staffed, and the costs of overtime pay for existing staff, since the court system anticipates an extremely busy calendar of jury trials. Finally, the request includes the cost of rapid testing supplies and other protective equipment for staff and jurors to ensure that the jury trials can be conducted as safely as possible and avoid a public health risk.

Project Description/Justification:

The State of Alaska has embarked on establishing a digital cloud environment to modernize information technology (IT) systems and manage IT costs, and provide a location where departments and the Office of Information Technology (OIT) can migrate/build servers and applications. The cloud environment is being set up and configured within Microsoft Azure.

The cloud benefits of infrastructure flexibility, utilization transparency, high availability, and added security are critical to the State’s ability to respond to budget fluctuations, unexpected pandemic situations, and reduce waste/gain efficiencies identified in the Alaska Administrative Productivity and Excellence assessment (<http://doa.alaska.gov/aapex/>). The State of Alaska cannot accelerate cloud adoption or realize these benefits without further cloud migration assistance. This is particularly the case with larger applications that can take multiple years to migrate.

Funding to assist department adoption is critical for the State to fully leverage cloud benefits. Over the past 14 months the cloud landing zone, governance, security, and billing controls have been built. For the past 8 months the State of Alaska has been utilizing COVID-19 response funds to work with departments developing cloud migration plans for their applications and servers.

The funding meets the following American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) requirements,

1. Capital project: funding will go towards specific applications identified in each department.

- 2. No reoccurring costs: These are professional one-time services to assist with cloud migrations. OIT and departments application teams will continue to support applications once they are in the cloud just as they do today.
- 3. Economic recovery benefit for Alaska: Alaska IT Professional Services vendors listed in the State of Alaska Task Order Procurement System will be used for contracting.
- 4. Work completed by end of 2024: ARPA funds will only be used to pay for approved cloud migration work performed on or before December 31, 2024.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

Installation of suicide prevention jump protection barriers within three housing units at the Anchorage Correctional Center, Goose Creek Correctional Center, and Spring Creek Correctional Center. These barriers are necessary to provide safe and secure settings for the prison population in an effort to prevent individuals from harming themselves or others while being housed in the least restrictive environment within these prisons. These modifications will include new security glazing in cell doors, and jump barriers. It will also provide a conceptual design for the replacement of the existing hand railing for suicide prevention.

Project Description/Justification:

After the cyberattack on May 2, 2021, the Commissioner of the Department of Health and Social Services (DHSS) requested an assessment on the DHSS Department Security Office. The goal is to provide the commissioner and the administration a comprehensive security assessment of the Department Security Office so that resources are best focused on areas that have been identified as needing improvement.

What is the purpose of the project?

The goal of this Security Posture Assessment (SPA) is to obtain a third-party external assessment of the DHSS Department Security Office to identify the overall effectiveness of the security program and provide recommendations on how to lower the overall department information technology (IT) risk level.

Is this a new systems development project? Or an upgrade or enhancement to existing department capabilities?

There would be no new systems from this assessment, but recommendations of new systems are possible.

Specifically, what hardware, software, consulting services, or other items will be purchased with this funding? Include a line-item breakdown.

This would be a professional services contract to obtain a professional security assessment of the Department's Department Security Office.

How will service to the public be measurably improved if this project is funded?

A measurable outcome will be the reduction of department risk to cyber events, data breaches or hacking of IT's information systems.

Will the project affect the way in which other public agencies conduct their business?

The Security Posture Assessment will look at process as one aspect of the review and will provide recommendations for process improvement.

What is the potential out-year cost implications if this project is approved? (Bandwidth requirements, etc.)

Lowering the department information technology systems risk may require IT resources, additional staff time, contractors, and modifications to existing systems.

What will happen if the project is not approved?

Department risk will not be improved so the overall risk to the Department will remain constant at the current level. Resources directed to improve the security posture of the department may not be well spent and directed to issues that may not improve overall department risk.

If another cyberattack occurred. it could potentially cost the Department millions of dollars in recovery efforts and fines. Without the SPA, the Department runs the risk of additional attacks, loss, and fines that could otherwise be avoided.

Project Description/Justification:

The Department of Administration has an existing contract with Alaska Public Media (APM) to begin the conversion of 15 Alaska Rural Communications Service (ARCS) sites to digital infrastructure. The available capital funds are insufficient to complete these upgrades and APM has submitted a plan suggesting over $1 million will be needed to complete upgrades on the 15 currently operational analog sites that have been granted time extensions by the FCC.

In late July 2021 the FCC contacted DOA requesting individual status reports on the remaining 63 Construction Permits (CP) the state holds for non-operational analog stations. DOA had no funding or ability to comply with this FCC request and the current plan is to let FCC cancel these permits.

Some states receive federal funding for state operated educational television, and the Department is exploring opportunities for federal funding for the over $1 million annual operating costs of ARCS.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

An FY2022 capital appropriation of $500,000 will provide for continuing digital upgrades, system repairs, seeking alternative Federal financing and FCC broadcast station eight-year license renewals of operational sites.

An FY2024 capital appropriation of $250,000 will be needed for completing digital upgrades, system repairs, and seeking alternative Federal financing.

Project Description/Justification:

The Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) includes more than $2.5 billion in competitive grants for EV charging infrastructure as well as more than $50 million of National EV Formula Program (EV Program) funds that could be apportioned to the State of Alaska with an approved EV Program plan. The federal cost-share is 80 percent and the remaining 20 percent can be made up by a combination of public and private dollars. For Alaska to be eligible to receive its $50 million apportionments of EV Program funds, the State (AEA) must develop a plan for disbursement through interagency coordination, consultation with the utilities, and stakeholder input to be submitted and approved by the federal Department of Transportation (DOT) annually.

AEA is requesting funds to develop the required EV Program plans and annual reporting; preparation of grant applications; solicitations and selections of contractors and site hosts; procurements; and managing the disbursement of the funds and sub-awards for statewide EV charging installations. The installation of EV charging infrastructure resolves a critical barrier to EV market adoption (range anxiety) and informs utility planning regarding grid impacts and ratemaking. These federal funds provide Alaska with a rare opportunity to complete a statewide EV fast-charging network as well as deploy EV chargers throughout communities. This infrastructure prepares Alaska for the growing EV market, which will be further accelerated by the transportation electrification funds provided by the IIJA.

The proposed project includes developing a plan through interagency coordination, consultation with the utilities, and stakeholder input to be submitted and approved by the DOT annually for the disbursement of Alaska’s apportionment of the EV Program funds, as well as the procurement of equipment, siting, engineering, electrical supply upgrades (as needed), installation, operation, customer support, and maintenance of the charging infrastructure for a minimum of three to five years. The EV Program funds would be used to complete a statewide DC fast-charging network along the NHS that meets the federal Alternative Fuel Corridor Ready criteria of stations located at least every 50 miles. As part of Phase 1, AEA is developing a fast-charging corridor between the Kenai Peninsula and Fairbanks, with the installation of nine stations located within 100 miles of adjacent stations. Additional development would occur along these highway corridors to meet the Corridor Ready criteria and address any areas anticipated to have more congestion. Phase 2 development would begin along the Glenn, Richardson, Tok Cutoff, and Alaska highways, connecting Alaska to Canada. Phase 3 would consist of installations in Haines and Klondike highways and NHS ports of Kodiak, Whittier, Valdez, Juneau, Sitka, Petersburg, Wrangell, and Ketchikan. AEA would also pursue the competitive grant opportunities in the IIJA for the installation of EV chargers throughout communities that are outside of NHS corridors.

In 2017 a construction project to convert the interior gym space into inmate housing was completed, eliminating the existing interior inmate recreation area. The current exterior exercise enclosure does not have a solid roof and has semi-open sides with little heat. During the winter months, the inmate population has limited access to outside recreation due to the inclement weather. If the project is not funded, inmates at Yukon Kuskokwim Correctional Center (YKCC) will continue to have limited access to outside recreation.

Design and construction work will include a 6,000 square foot enclosed structure with walls, roof, lighting, unit heaters, secure doors, enclosed walkway connecting the new gymnasium to the facility, and surveillance cameras. The current wireless infrastructure cannot provide sufficient coverage to enable the utilization of technology to help ensure safety, security, and efficiencies in patient assessments, as well as patient use of internet-based resources to further their foundational growth and independence. Project Description/Justification:

What is the purpose of the project?

When the Alaska Psychiatric Institute (API) was built in 1996 it did not anticipate the need for universal wireless infrastructure to meet the needs of the hospital’s technological advancements in providing patient safety, security, assessments, and growth. In the past 25 years the need and ability to use technology has become standard across the industry and necessary to maintain best practices for the health and well-being of the patients served. During the recent COVID-19 pandemic it has become more apparent than ever that API must invest in enhanced wireless infrastructure to ensure patients can have access to outside providers, family contact, internet based resources, and opportunities for foundational growth and independence. This project will expand wireless capability throughout the Alaska Psychiatric Institute to provide necessary connectivity for patient care and wellbeing.

The following patient care and safety concerns will be addressed by updating Wi-Fi throughout the building:

- Increased opportunity and reliability for patients to see providers while reducing risks of exposure due to infectious diseases or because of remote telehealth options.
- Ability to document in real time and transmit information directly to the patient's medical record. This will allow for more accurate up to date information.
- Allow patients to have increased visitation, not only during a pandemic but also for patients whose support network live outside of the Anchorage area.
- Increase the number of therapeutic resources available for health education to patients.
- Utilize wireless technology in different equipment throughout the hospital to include updating the medical carts remotely.
- This technology will increase efficiencies and accuracy in countless other ways.

Is this a new systems development project? Or an upgrade or enhancement to existing department capabilities?

This will be an enhancement/upgrade to the current Wi-Fi set up which was installed around 2011. This system is extremely limited with only six to seven access points with very spotty coverage in the units.

Specifically, what hardware, software, consulting services, or other items will be purchased with this funding? Include a line-item breakdown.

The actual costs are not yet determined until the completion of the wireless survey. Costs will include consulting fee, implementation fee, and actual costs for access point hardware.

How will service to the public be measurably improved if this project is funded?

Visitation with patients will be more accessible and reliable, especially for patients with a support network outside of the Anchorage area. It is especially important during a pandemic situation where physical presence has been limited and visitations have been put on hold.

Will the project affect the way in which other public agencies conduct their business?

No.

What are the potential out-year cost implications if this project is approved? (Bandwidth requirements, etc.)

Hardware replacement when current items reach end of life. Depending on the model, useful life is roughly six to seven years.

What will happen if the project is not approved?

Patient care and safety will suffer in multiple areas. Hospital Wi-Fi can be used for more than just an internet connection.

The opportunity for telemedicine increases dramatically when API can connect wirelessly throughout the building bringing the providers to the patients. Without this technology, API will increase risk to providers and other patients by exposing them to a patient who is in quarantine due to infectious disease instead of remote or telehealth options.

Alaska Psychiatric Institute Wireless Infrastructure Upgrade

FY2022 Request: $500,000
Reference No: 63906

Without this technology, API will continue to lack the opportunity for real time documentation. Provider documentation is more likely to be accurate when the provider does not have to rely on memory or take handwritten notes for charting later. Data collection such as vital signs can be electronically transmitted into the medical record in real time. The use of tablets or other handheld devices to transmit real time information into the medical record is the standard of care.

Without upgraded Wi-Fi, API will be unable to offer visitation options to patients whose support network reside outside of Anchorage. Visitation with family and friends is a proven intervention which assists with the mental health of patients and is a patient right.

There will be severe limitations on being able to provide various therapeutic resources and health education to patients. API will be unable to update medical equipment as new equipment requires wireless connection for software updates. The medication carts currently require pharmacy staff to continuously visit the units to update the carts while a wireless option would allow API to update the carts remotely.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

The Alaska Marine Salmon Program will research why many systems in Alaska are experiencing poor returns of salmon. While marine fish species are showing lower rates of productivity many species of marine mammals have proliferated. This indicates poor marine survival attributed to changing ocean conditions. The Department cannot tackle these issues alone; however, it is critical the Department have resources to participate in national and international marine research efforts in the Bering Sea and Gulf of Alaska.

Project Description/Justification:

1. Core program

Cost: $250,000 Annually

A core marine salmon research program would include supporting the existing staff necessary for basic statewide research and analysis, inclusive of 12 months of Fisheries Scientist 1 (FS1) salary; six months of Fishery Biologist 2 (FB2) salary, with an expectation of an additional six months covered by external funding; and one month of Biometrician 3 salary. An additional month of sea duty pay for each of the FS1 and FB2 would support the ability to participate in field research at sea. Additional funds would support travel for the FS1 and FB2, and the purchasing of supplies and equipment necessary for laboratory analyses (e.g. genetics, otoliths, and stomach content).

2. Support existing long standing research programs: Northern Bering Sea Juvenile Salmon Survey and Southeast Alaska Coastal Monitoring Program.

Cost: $50,000 each or $100,000 Annually

These programs have proven valuable for providing forecasting tools used in management and contributing to our understanding of factors driving survival and productivity at different life stages for Yukon River Chinook salmon and Southeast Alaska Pink salmon. Both programs have capacity to provide usable products for other regional salmon species as well (e.g. Western Alaska chum, Southeast Alaska Chinook).

Both programs are largely funded with soft monies and with in-kind contributions from National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). Additional funds would support laboratory analyses and gear to support ongoing program operations. Annual funding and operation are necessary for accurate forecasts. Additional funds would allow the agency to shore up existing programs in the face of decreasing NOAA support for marine salmon monitoring.

3. Comprehensive marine salmon monitoring: Southern Bering Sea survey and Northwestern Gulf of Alaska survey

Cost: $350,000 each or $800,000 Annually

All three levels would provide a comprehensive assessment of Alaskan salmon at sea for the major salmon stocks. The Southern Bering Sea survey would include monitoring of Kuskokwim, Bristol Bay, and North Alaskan Peninsula salmon stocks. The Northwestern Gulf of Alaska survey would include monitoring of Cook Inlet, Copper River, and Chignik stocks, with the possibility of some Kodiak stocks also being included. Salmon surveys have previously been conducted by NOAA in these locations and have been successful.

Annual monitoring, stock assessment through genetics and otolith/coded wire tag mark recoveries, and combining with adult abundance data would enable development of forecasting tools like those already developed from Northern Bering Sea and Southeast Coastal Monitoring surveys. Combined, these four programs (Southern Bering Sea survey, Northern Bering Sea Juvenile Salmon Survey, Southeast Alaska Coastal Monitoring Program, and Northwestern Gulf of Alaska survey) would powerfully monitor future salmon runs of importance to Alaskans and allow for better analysis of factors driving Alaskan salmon run abundance patterns. Program costs would largely include funds necessary to charter capable fishing vessels, travel, gear, supplies, laboratory analysis, and support of existing staff in the field.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

Alaska’s economic future is tied to the Arctic. As the Arctic opens, new opportunities will emerge. One of these is the potential development of fisheries. To support current subsistence fisheries and future development of commercial fisheries, baseline information on abundance, distribution, and life history is necessary for Arctic finfish (e.g., salmon, whitefish, sheefish, cod). Understanding Arctic finfish abundance and distribution dynamics would allow for the development of sustainable fisheries and more responsive fishery management.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

The Western Alaska Salmon Stock Identification Program (WASSIP) comprehensively sampled commercial and subsistence chum and sockeye salmon harvested in coastal marine fisheries of western Alaska from 2006 through 2009. This provided reliable information for fisheries decisions made over the last decade by the Department and the Board of Fisheries. Because run sizes and ocean conditions are changing, this project will build on WASSIP to provide updated information for current applications.

Sec4 Ch30 SLA2007 P94 L6 SB 53 $1,542,500

Project Description/Justification:

1. Retrospective analysis of WASSIP data

Cost: $45,000 One time

This project will reanalyze the genetic information collected from chum salmon and sockeye salmon harvested in South Alaska Peninsula fisheries as part of the Western Alaska Salmon Stock Identification Program (WASSIP). WASSIP was designed to provide comprehensive stock composition, harvest, and harvest rates in all fisheries from Chignik to Kotzebue Sound. The reanalysis of the data from this program is intended to provide greater resolution of stock components within aggregate reporting units.

a. Chum salmon – Cost $0

Chum salmon were sampled for WASSIP in 2007-2009. Samples were also collected in 2006 but were not analyzed due to incomplete sampling in Bristol Bay that year. The Coastal Western Alaska reporting group, which includes populations from Norton Sound to Bristol Bay, cannot be further resolved into smaller groups at this time although research continues as resources are available. No additional information can be gained beyond the comprehensive 2007-2009 results from WASSIP.

b. Sockeye salmon – Cost $45,000 One time

Sockeye salmon were sampled for WASSIP in 2006-2008. Samples were also collected in 2009 but were not analyzed due to insufficient funding. Since the reanalysis of genetic data from 2006-2008 will use existing data, no additional laboratory analysis will be required. The purpose for this reanalysis is to further resolve the aggregate East-of-WASSIP reporting group into Kodiak/Mainland, Cook Inlet (Kenai, Kasilof, Susitna, and 'other Cook Inlet' subgroups), and Prince William Sound/Copper River reporting groups.

2. Stock identification of fishery harvests

These two projects will involve sampling the commercial fishery catch, stock identification of the samples, and estimation and reporting of the composition of commercial harvests. The projects are designed to answer separate questions and generally have separate geographic scope. For this reason, they can operate independently but cost savings can be achieved if both are funded. The benefit of these studies over retrospective reanalysis is that these studies can be designed to answer specific questions of interest and inform current management, especially in the face of a rapidly changing environment.

a. Stock identification of chum salmon harvests in South Peninsula June commercial fisheries

Cost: $390,000 Annually

This project is designed to provide stock composition estimates of chum salmon harvested in the South Unimak Island and Shumagin Island areas during the June commercial fisheries when the contribution of western Alaska stocks is greatest. The stock resolution of these estimates will use the reporting groups applied in the WASSIP study¹ with the additional objective of including the Asia reporting group in the final analysis.

This project is intended to occur annually to provide ongoing monitoring of the fishery. Funds will support collection and analysis of the samples.

This project has a limited scope, sampling harvests in the South Unimak Island and Shumagin Island areas for four scheduled periods through the month of June. Samples will be taken from the two dominant gear types in each area (Unimak – Seine and Drift; Shumagins – Seine and Set-gillnet). This results in a total of 20 time/area/gear strata, requiring staff assigned to two ports (False Pass and Sand Point) to sample delivered harvest for the month of June.

The annual cost for sample collection is $150,000, which includes 1.5 months for each port sampler. Genetic stock identification will be based on 8,000 fish (400 per stratum). All administrative and logistic coordination will be in-kind from existing staff.

Stock Identification of Salmon Harvested in South Peninsula Fisheries

FY2022 Request: $2,000,000
Reference No: 42050

If the sockeye salmon analysis is also funded, the cost of harvest sampling can be reduced significantly.

b. Stock identification of sockeye salmon harvests in western Gulf of Alaska commercial fisheries

Cost: $1,500,000 Annually

This project is designed to provide a comprehensive assessment of the stock composition of sockeye salmon harvests in western Gulf of Alaska fisheries. The geographic scope of the WASSIP assessment in the Gulf of Alaska was limited to the central and southern areas and did not extend beyond Chignik. Given the lack of complete information to extend the WASSIP stock composition data to the north and east of Chignik, a study designed to comprehensively assess the current stock composition will better answer current management questions.

A three-year study will provide the minimum information required to understand the stock composition of the commercial salmon harvests in western Gulf of Alaska salmon fisheries. Ongoing annual funding would provide yearly harvest information from these mixed stock fisheries improving management and assessment of Gulf of Alaska sockeye salmon stocks. Funds will support collection and analysis of the samples.

This project has a large, geographically extensive scope and is expensive. The department no longer has sampling crews or infrastructure in many ports, so sampling costs reflect the need to reconstitute these programs. The sampling design will mirror the original WASSIP (2006-2008), Southeast District Mainland (SEDM; 2010-2012), and Kodiak (2014-2016) studies. This results in a total of approximately 80 time/area strata. This will support existing positions including eight Fish & Wildlife Technicians (FWT) 2s, eight FWT 3s, and two Fishery Biologists 1s. Each port will be sampled for the duration of the sockeye run, which is typically about three months. Genetic stock identification will be based on 32,000 fish (400 per stratum).

1 WASSIP chum salmon reporting groups included: Kotzebue Sound, Coastal Western Alaska (Yukon River to Bristol Bay), Upper Yukon River, North AK Peninsula - Northern District, North AK Peninsula - Northwestern District, South AK Peninsula, Chignik, and East of Kodiak.

Project Description/Justification:

The Mat-Su Borough is Alaska’s fastest growing area with an average annual growth rate of 1.86 percent between 2010 and 2020 (Department of Labor and Workforce Development population estimates). The region represents 14.7 percent of Alaska’s total population. Staffing levels within the current Office of Children’s Services have grown along with the overall population growth of the area. In addition, recruitment difficulties in outlying offices resulted in positions being moved to Wasilla to cover those areas remotely. Three conference rooms have been transformed to shared offices while two additional conference rooms are being utilized for parent visitation. File rooms are at capacity and cabinets are spilling out into the hallways. Staff are doubled and tripled up in offices. The current office lobby can safely accommodate up to three clients. Often, there are up to ten clients or visitors in the lobby at a single time, resulting in safety concerns that put staff and clients at risk. Due to the nature of in-office client interactions and file maintenance, telework is not a viable option. The office is located in a strip mall adjacent to a grocery store and has been subject to vandalism including broken windows and State vehicle theft. Drug transactions, public urination, and intoxicated individuals sleeping in the hallways are common and visible from office windows, contributing to staff safety concerns. Clients entering a child welfare office in a popular strip mall area lack privacy.

The Anchorage Regional Office is in an increasingly unsafe area of downtown where staff and clients endure drug transactions, vandalism, public urination, and intoxicated individuals sleeping in and near the entrances of the leased building. Intoxicated individuals follow staff and clients when entering and exiting the building which poses a safety concern. There is limited parking available to clients and staff. The walkway from a satellite lot to the building is not well lit and the walkway is not properly maintained during the winter months often causing injury to staff from falling on snow and ice. The building landlord fails to consistently maintain the parking areas and sidewalks causing several client and staff injuries during the winter months. In addition, there are several building maintenance issues that are not addressed by the landlord after multiple requests that frequently require escalation to the State leasing section. The landlord consistently misses contractually required improvements, such as flooring, carpet, and paint.

Both the Mat-Su and Anchorage leases will expire with no remaining options in 2023. The Department of Health and Social Services will solicit new office spaces, ensure client and worker safety, and provide privacy for clients through a formal procurement process. This request will provide for moving expenses, furnishings, and general office infrastructure. The leases will include walls, carpet, information technology, safety, surveillance cameras, an integrated key card system, furnishings, family visitation rooms, filing rooms, conference rooms, security guard station, and a properly sized waiting area.

Project Description/Justification:

Federal authority for AMYA construction, contingency, and planning projects allows the State of Alaska to receive year-end National Guard Youth Challenge program funding, made available when other states are not able to fully execute their federal appropriations. In late September, AMYA identifies additional modernization and sustainment projects that can be fulfilled with year-end funding. This appropriation would give AMYA the funding and authority to accept these dollars and meet the federal requirement that the department encumber them by September 30, the end of the federal fiscal year.

Project Description/Justification:

This request is to amend the original appropriation to allow for the receipt of additional funding from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs for the Interior Alaska Veterans Cemetery project. This request includes general funds needed to match federal funds received from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

This project provides for the planning, design, and construction of a dedicated State Veterans Cemetery in Fairbanks to serve the burial needs of veterans in the interior of Alaska. Currently veterans in this region must travel to Anchorage or Sitka, 350 and 750 miles respectively, to reach the nearest veterans' cemetery with available grave space.

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has analyzed cemetery projects nationwide and determined that project costs have risen from initial funding estimates and is providing additional funding to meet these costs.

This will replace dilapidated Wet X (WX) vehicles which have been paid off but have extended beyond their useful life. Currently, DNR not have enough credits to purchase new build vehicles. The crew vehicle fleet is a combination of leased trucks, which DNR will continue, and WX which we need to replace.

The vehicle type is a Type 7 engine or command truck that is includes light bars, sirens, radios to provide for safe emergency response. The second type of vehicle, in the fire world is called a fire support truck. These are usually Ford F-550s with high top boxes and specked out with scene lighting, air compressors, generators, and dry storage. These vehicles are used to store crew gear, chainsaws, tools, fuel, equipment and parts for field repair of the equipment crews use in the wildland fire setting.

Both types of vehicles would be on a 10-12 year useful life and replacement plan.

These new pilots will each need a sUAS of their own to conduct flight operations in their respective posts and areas. The sUAS platforms provide rapid situational awareness with mapping technology and imagery when personnel respond to traffic accidents, assess infrastructure damage after a disaster, conduct SAR operations, and barricaded subject callouts. The use of an sUAS is critical to providing time-sensitive information to ground teams to aid in decision-making and response.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

The Alaska Court System has renewed efforts to work with executive branch agencies to develop and build a Justice Center that would better serve the community of Bethel. The intent would be to incorporate a number of State of Alaska agencies into one facility to allow for ease of use and better community support.

Prior Funding History / Additional Information:

The current facility that the Alaska Court System occupies has a number of issues, including space constraints, structural issues, lack of appropriate HVAC systems, and physical security challenges. The Alaska Court System had worked with local contractors and building owners in Bethel in the past to plan to remodel an existing structure, but when that became unavailable there were no other appropriate existing buildings to move forward with the original design.

Project Description/Justification:

This request is to engage designers to locate raw land and design a space that would be useful to many State agencies in Bethel and also provide significantly better service to the community. To facilitate this process, the Alaska Court System is requesting $630,000 to conduct a feasibility study and for planning and design of a Bethel Justice Center.

The Palmer Courthouse has eight courtrooms and nine judicial officers. All courtrooms are in use throughout the day. The Palmer court has the highest number of superior court filings per superior court judge in the state. The case filings have grown along with the population (according to the U.S. Census Bureau, the Matanuska- Susitna Borough has grown 21.7% in the past decade). To provide relief to the Palmer court, pro tem judges and judges from other courts in the third district are traveling to Palmer to hold trials and other court proceedings. Due to the limited availability of courtrooms, accommodating additional judges and juggling court calendars is very challenging, and, at times impossible. Adding two more courtrooms in the Palmer Courthouse would reduce delays in court proceedings. Planning and design funding totaling $350,000 is requested for this project. For planning purposes, this would also accommodate new Palmer judges if it is determined that the continued increased population in the Mat-Su Valley and related case filings require additional judges for that court.

The Federal Surplus Property Program (FSPP) is located in the Project Management Office (PMO) complex in Anchorage. The existing federal surplus warehouse on the PMO complex does not contain office space or restrooms. Currently, FSPP customers must visit both warehouses on the complex to complete business transactions: one warehouse to visit the FSPP office for administrative needs, and the other to view available surplus property. The Surplus Property fund has enough federal carryforward to allow the FSPP to add office space through the requisition of a modular building from existing federal surplus property, which will allow the program to expand its ability to serve Alaska. This will enhance efficiency and service delivery in the FSPP by providing program participants easier access through the co-location of both program offices and onsite federal surplus property. Funding will cover disassembly, transport, reassembly, setup of the building, and build-out of the office space. The FSPP is a unique program that connects eligible Alaskan organizations with surplus federal property and equipment from around the nation, some of which can be obtained for pennies on the dollar. Eligible organizations, referred to by the federal government as "donees", are Alaskan government, medical, and educational institutions; qualifying tribal corporations that administer government services in outlying areas of Alaska; and 501(C) non-profits and SBA 8(a) businesses that provide critical social services. This program is funded exclusively through federal revenue generated from an administrative fee assessed when matching federal surplus property with eligible program participants, and excess revenues are deposited into the Surplus Property fund for the program to use at a later date. The FSPP is the only program able to utilize this fund.

1004 Gen Fund		750.0

Current projections indicate the Office of Public Advocacy (OPA) will require supplemental funding to operate through FY2022.

Caseload growth, attorney vacancies, increasing civil cases, and the reopening of jury trials after suspension during the pandemic have each contributed to a large increase in court activity and unplanned expenditures in FY2022. Suspension of jury trials created a large backlog of cases that could not be heard. As the courts reopened in January, an enormous amount of activity and pressure has been put on agency staff to catch up with the caseloads, which are expected to increase personal services and contractual costs in the second half of FY2022.

Currently, the OPA attorney positions are not all filled, which translates to increased contracts with the private sector to help work on cases at an increased cost. There are also overtime expenses for paralegal support and case tracking. Ongoing efforts to fill these positions are promising but can be hindered by the limited number of legal professionals in the state, stressful work conditions due to the overload of cases, and lower pay than equivalent private sector work.

OPA must take cases assigned to it if statutorily authorized. OPA provides constitutionally and statutorily mandated services. The level of service that must be provided is dictated by constitutional, statutory, and licensing standards applicable to our professional staff. Therefore, OPA has no ability to reduce its workload or to eliminate the attendant budgetary impact.

The Office of Public Advocacy (OPA) has received additional grant revenues from the Municipality of Anchorage related to the Anchorage Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) program. Legislative authorization is required for the expenditure of these funds as OPA does not have statutory designated program receipt authority.

This is a one-time request.

Funding is needed to supplement the current budget authority which is insufficient to meet current ongoing operations required to maintain safe institutional operations. This funding will be allocated to the FY2022 shortfall within the personal services and commodity lines. Increased costs within these lines are associated with overtime and temporary assignments due to position vacancies and leave requirements as well as the increased costs associated with supplies such as food, clothing, bedding, security, maintenance and other household institutional supplies, and the related shipping costs.

Additional authority is needed for a legal counsel contract with Brustein & Manasevit to defend the Department of Education and Early Development (DEED) in a federal case concerning the federal Impact Aid Program. Alaska is one of two states with an equalized formula, and the U.S. Department of Education Impact Aid Program Office recently denied Alaska's equalized certification for FY2022 because the revenue disparity percentage was not within the 25 percent disparity allowed under ESEA section 7009(b)(2). As required per AS 36.30.015(d), the Department of Law will procure outside legal counsel as needed for specialized expertise not available internally. Brustein & Manasevit has a longstanding relationship with DEED and has direct, recent experience working with one state on reviewing their disparity test calculation that resulted in that state obtaining recertification of their equalized status. The Department of Law administers this contract for outside legal counsel, and the contractual services provided will be approved and paid by Department of Law and billed to DEED for reimbursement on a monthly basis. The administrative support costs for the Foundation Program are within the School Finance and Facilities component, which does not have an adequate balance to cover this unforeseen cost. Without this contract for outside legal counsel, DEED and the Department of Law would lack the specialized expertise necessary to effectively respond to the U.S. Department of Education Impact Aid Program's recent denial of Alaska's equalized certification.

Fiscal note out-year projections have been updated to reflect actual expenditures.
School Broadband Assistance Grants (BAG) was expanded through the passage of SB 74 Internet for Schools. The legislation increased the megabit threshold from 10 megabits to 25 megabits per second (Mbps). The fiscal note calculation was based on bringing a maximum of 173 schools up to the increased speed. The out-years of the fiscal note estimated an annual three percent reduction.
As the program was implemented and internet costs decreased, the cost of the program has also decreased resulting in excess funding. In FY2022, all 28 eligible school districts consisting of 154 schools were fully funded and the Department of Education and Early Development (DEED) is projecting to lapse approximately $1,847.3. This reduction does not represent the full excess authority, and instead reserves approximately $847.0 to accommodate any unanticipated grant program needs that may arise during the fiscal year.

In FY2020, the Department of Environmental Conservation secured a $2.7 million loan through the Department of Transportation's Energy Program to make building improvements to the Environmental Health Laboratory that will increase efficiency and significantly reduce energy consumption. The energy savings realized through reduced utility costs is expected to be offset with an annual loan payment of approximately $230.0 each year through FY2033. Although the project reached substantial completion in December 2020, it is not yet 100% complete, and full savings are not yet realized. The department is working with the vendor to finalize the project and identify shortfalls in savings prior to the year one measurement and verification. The department anticipates an operating budget shortfall of $97.0 due to unrealized energy savings. In addition, the standby generator at the laboratory facility failed and has been determined unrepairable. The generator is critical to ensuring the integrity of laboratory operations, supply integrity, and continuity of operations. The department is currently renting a generator at a monthly rate of $6.5, estimated to total $78.0. This cost was unanticipated and will need to continue until a new generator can be procured and installed. The department will be working with the Department of Transportation & Public Facilities and the Office of Management and Budget to draft the design and scope of work through the deferred maintenance process.

The Department of Environmental Conservation is experiencing unanticipated legal costs as the result of an enforcement case against a public water system owner/operator. While there have been longstanding issues with this operator, the department was notified in June 2020 that residents served by this water system did not have adequate water pressure, leaving them without a source of safe drinking water, and in many cases being unable to shower, flush toilets, or wash hands during a pandemic. The department pursued legal action as a last resort to compel the system operator to provide an alternative source of potable water. This case is ongoing and has experienced delays over the past year and a half due to the pandemic. The department spent $230.0 in FY2021 related legal fees, and it is expected that the division will incur more legal expenditures in FY2022 due to a substantial discovery request and anticipated trial costs.

The Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) will assume primacy of Section 404 of the Clean Water Act (CWA) enacted in 1972, which is the primary federal law governing pollution control and water quality of the Nation’s waterways. The Act’s objective is to restore and maintain the chemical, physical, and biological integrity of the Nation’s waters.

Section 404 of the CWA regulates the discharge of dredged or fill material into the waters and wetlands of the United States (WOTUS) and requires the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) to issue a Section 404 permit before dredged and fill material may be discharged in WOTUS. Activities typically requiring a Section 404 permit include:

- Site improvements for residential, commercial, or recreational development
- Construction of revetments, groins, breakwaters, levees, dams, dikes, and weirs
- Placement of riprap and fill material for roads, airports, or buildings

Whenever a federal permit is required, namely a Section 404 permit, an applicant must obtain a Section 401 water quality certification from DEC. When reviewing an application, DEC reviews the project, analyzes its potential water quality impacts, solicits public and agency comments, and coordinates with other state and federal agencies and local governments. DEC can either approve, approve with conditions, waive, or deny the Section 401 water quality certification based on compliance with the CWA, state water quality standards, and other applicable state laws. Any conditions imposed by the state through its Section 401 water quality certification automatically become conditions of the USACE’s Section 404 permit.

Section 404(g)(1) of the CWA gives states the ability to assume partial authority over the Section 404 program. It states the, “Governor of any State desiring to administer its own individual and general permit program for the discharge of dredged or fill material into navigable waters ... within its jurisdiction may submit to the Administrator a full and complete description of the program it proposes to establish and administer under State law...”. This provision requires the USACE to retain permitting authority over certain categories of waters and allows the state to assume permitting authority over all other WOTUS (commonly known as “assumable waters”).

DEC assumption of the Section 404 program will provide a streamlined permitting procedure, greater certainty to the regulated community, conservation of resources of both the applicant and regulator, and greater control over the development of its natural resources while complying with federal law.

The department will apply for Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approval in FY2022 and FY2023 with the expectation that state primacy will be assumed and fully implemented by FY2024.

The following positions are needed in FY2022 for Section 404 primacy:

- Full-time Environmental Program Manager 3 (18-#050), range 23, located in Anchorage
- Full-time Environmental Program Manager 2 (18-#051), range 22, located in Anchorage
- Full-time Environmental Program Specialist 4 (18-#052), range 20, located in Anchorage

This funding will support several areas including Alaska Clean Water Action grants for projects to restore, protect, or conserve water quality, as well as additional work on a software application that is being developed to replace multiple outdated systems into one integrated tool for the division. The division has applied for and anticipates receiving a new grant for wetlands planning work that will commence in the current fiscal year. The division lapsed less than $23.0 in federal authority in FY2021. Additional federal authority was received in FY2022 to fund four positions in the compliance and enforcement section and with those positions filled, the division projects requiring an additional $450.0 this year.

The Division of Geological & Geophysical Surveys (DGGS) receives most of their revenue through the Geological Material Center (GMC) located in Anchorage. The principal clients are oil and gas industry exploration geologists who visit the facility to use the services and who purchase the tax credit seismic data sets the facility serves. When oil prices are stable and at attractive levels, budgets support exploration, and demand for the GMC services and seismic datasets is strong. Conversely, when oil prices fall, lower corporate income reduces exploration budgets which slows or ceases exploration activity, including visits to the GMC and the purchase of seismic data.

The coronavirus outbreak caused global oil demand to fall, and oil price fell along with demand; Alaska North Slope (ANS) hit a daily low price on April 28, 2020 of $8.56 per barrel. With the collapse in oil prices, industry revenue fell, exploration budgets were cut, and projects were terminated or suspended. Since the collapse in oil prices, visits and revenue to the GMC have fallen.

Seismic data sales typically take place during the fall season. As of December 2021, DGGS has only collected about $22.0 in FY2022, and the division anticipates collecting an additional $125.0 for the remainder of the fiscal year. With the $908.0 in carryforward revenue from FY2021, DGGS currently only has $930.0 in collected earned revenue, which is not enough to cover the appropriated authority of $1.5 million.

Therefore, DGGS needs $130.0 in supplemental authority to ensure there is sufficient funding that pays for existing positions and other high priority costs associated with occupancy and operation of the GMC.

- Re-configuration of office space in the GMC to support DGGS Anchorage staff, which includes remodeling existing space and purchasing office cubicles for 12 staff members.
- Seismic restraints on warehouse shelves – this is a high priority to protect core boxes from falling off of shelves during earthquakes. Once fallen to the floor, boxes are destroyed and the core falls out of the boxes, becoming mixed and rendered worthless.

The Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation (DPOR) requires a supplemental to recover lost general fund program receipts (GFPR) from the global pandemic. In FY2022, DPOR has $4,787.9 in authorized general fund program receipts. The division projects needing a total of $525.0 this fiscal year to adequately fund positions and operational costs needed to run the State Parks. Due to the pandemic, DPOR saw a 20% overall increase in Alaska resident state park visitations, primarily at trailheads, parking lots, campgrounds, public use cabins, rest areas and boat launches. The increased visitation has significantly increased maintenance costs for supplies, repairs, and services which have become more expensive due to the pandemic supply and demand shortages and shipping challenges. This resulted in a funding shortfall in DPOR's budget component and has negatively impacted the availability to pay division personal services and other operational costs. However, at the same time, DPOR's facilities that generate program receipts required to sustain the division were lower due to the absence of large-scale cruise ship tourism. This resulted in reduced revenue from commercial use permits and historical park access. Due to this decrease in generated revenue, the division couldn't timely fund its capital projects that are funded by program receipts, causing a delay to establish and implement revenue-generating systems such as the electronic fee stations and public use cabin installation program. To fully fund positions this year, $225.0 of this request will be used for personal services. There are additional costs associated with onboarding new staff, especially Park Rangers, due to required training, uniform, and other set-up costs. The other $300.0 is needed to pay for operational costs such as (but not limited to): building lease payments for office locations in Seward, Kenai and Homer, dispatch services for Mat-Su and Kenai areas, printing costs for brochures and information sheets, decals for annual boat and parking passes, commercial use decals, boat ramp passes, disabled veteran's passes, and commercial operators. Therefore, DPOR needs $525.0 in supplemental authority to ensure there is sufficient funding for existing positions and other high priority operational costs associated with safely managing the State Park Facilities. Inability to fund these costs will result in closure of Alaska State Park Units.

With the increased number of individuals requiring criminal background checks for employment, licensing, and other purposes, the Criminal Justice Information Systems (CJIS) Program has steadily increased the amount of carryforward revenue from General Fund Program Receipts (GF/PR). A vast majority of the funding is anticipated and projected, but may not be realized until requests for background checks are actually submitted, making budget projections challenging. The division processes an average of over 41,000 applicant background checks per year. The FY2022 Governor's budget includes $977,600 GF/PR authority in the Criminal Justice Information Systems Program. In state fiscal year 2021, the component received $1,170,400 in GF/PR revenue, leaving no authority to spend $239,300 of the funds received. When the FY2021 budget was closed out, CJIS Programs 'rolled' $790,591 in GF/PR revenue. In order to spend projected revenue for FY2022 and spend the $790,591 carryforward revenue, the division needs to increase its budgeted GF/PR amount by $893,391 for a total authority of $1,870,991.

The Treasury Division is funded through a variety of sources including retirement trust funds and other State funds. As part of its cost allocation plan, the Division analyzes the level of effort provided to each of these funds on an ongoing basis. It is vital that the State only charge the retirement trusts for the actual level of effort performed on the behalf of those funds. Otherwise, the State may be at risk of violating trust principles. It has been noted that through the cost allocation plan, the cash management function, which largely benefits the agencies and not the retirement trust funds, has billed a majority of its costs to the retirement funds. This fund change reverses that practice and reduces future unrestricted general fund retirement contributions because of the reduced spending from the retirement trusts for cash management.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

In 2021 the State of Alaska DNR, USFWS, and USGS were awarded project funding from the Exxon-Valdez Oil Spill Trustee Council (EVOSTC) to map wetlands and hydrography across the EVOS Region. As part of this project the State of Alaska will be awarded $1,088,529 over a four-year period to acquire high-resolution LIDAR (elevation data) and facilitate project management of the award. The LIDAR collection area encompasses 670,000 acres in the eastern portion of the Lower Copper River Delta.

Project Description/Justification:

The department will use Light Detection and Ranging (LIDAR), which is a method for determining ranges (variable distance) by targeting an object with a laser and measuring the time for the reflected light to return to the receiver. This LIDAR contract will be managed by the State’s Geospatial Information Officer (GIO). Airborne LIDAR data collection will take place during the 2022 summer season (after snowmelt). It will undergo internal quality control and review by the State of Alaska and will be made publicly available through the State of Alaska’s Geoportal.

The value of LIDAR data goes far beyond the project scope of this EVOS project. LIDAR is a data asset to all State agencies. The State GIO will facilitate data sharing through the State of Alaska Geoportal and will ensure it is made available to all local, state, and federal agencies to support mission objectives.

The mapping area encompasses local, state, federal, native, and private lands. For these reasons the value of this data to Alaskans cannot be understated. Project leaders coordinated with United States Forest Service (USFS), the primary land owner and other landowners on the Copper River Delta, to develop the area of interest and specifications to ensure the data is of value far past the completion of this single EVOS project. In addition, the LIDAR data will assist National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) in implementation of the Alaska Coastal Mapping Strategy, mapping Alaska's coastline and nearshore regions. The geodetic control will also be used to improve mapping accuracy of all data throughout the EVOS region. This type of foundational data can be used towards infrastructure planning, development, managing the State's natural resources, lands and habitats as well as the assessment, mitigation, and response of natural hazards.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

The National Historic Preservation Fund (NHPF) is a federal grant program to assist states with their historic preservation programs and projects executed through cooperative agreements or grants with federal and local agencies. This program contributes to the department’s mission through development, conservation, and use of Alaska’s heritage properties and is consistent with the public interest and the Alaska Historic Preservation Act.

Project Description/Justification:

The National Historic Preservation Fund provides for Alaska's ongoing State Historic Preservation Program, which includes sub-grants to local governments, for-profit and nonprofit organizations, individuals, and owners of historic properties. There is an ongoing need for the protection, preservation, and rehabilitation or restoration of historic properties. Other historic preservation projects eligible for grants include surveys and inventory of historic properties, education, planning, and training.

State and federal agencies and the Alaska business sector depend on a functioning State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) to facilitate the required Section 106 review of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 for new developments and constructions in the State and consultation process. Failure to follow the Section 106 process makes projects vulnerable to litigation. The State of Alaska has the local expertise and understanding of the construction and seasonal schedules in Alaska.

This $200,000 General Fund Match funding is required in order to for the SPHO program to receive the grant and continue its functions. This funding will allow Office of History and Archaeology (OHA) to be compliant with the National Historic Preservation Act. Failure to meet the match portion of this grant may result in loss of the OHA's approved status as a SHPO, including its qualification to receive the annual federal grant in the future. A failure to fund the NHPF fund would hinder the state's efforts to preserve its heritage and hamper federally required environmental review of resource development and essential infrastructure projects.

All federally funded, licensed, or permitted undertakings must consult with the SHPO as part of the environmental review process and take into consideration impacts to the State's heritage sites in compliance with Section 106.

Inability to accept and utilize the federal grant would also lead to losing the opportunity to invest in Alaska's historic properties and threatened historic properties would be at greater risk. Without this funding, the state's historic preservation program could not sub-grant those funds to the public, government, and business sectors. Historic properties would deteriorate, developers and planners could experience project delays and additional costs because site inventory data is not available, and opportunities for cooperative projects would be missed.

Brief Summary and Statement of Need:

The state's transportation assets are regularly damaged by catastrophic events and natural weather occurrences, such as ice jams, floods, earthquakes, slope failures, windstorms and heavy snows. When unforeseen and unplanned incidents occur, repairs to the state's highways, airports, and facilities are needed immediately to restore transportation service to communities and to minimize disruptions to commerce.

The costs for response and repairs are often additional unbudgeted costs exceeding the department's ability to absorb within annual operating budgets. These funds would provide the department with a vital tool in responding to natural disasters, extreme weather incidents, and repairing state's assets due to catastrophic events.

Project Description/Justification:

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION. The unexpended and unobligated general fund balances, estimated to be a total of $4,661,302, of the following appropriations are reappropriated for emergency weather and catastrophic events:

(3) sec. 16(e), ch. 38, SLA 2015 (Department of Transportation and Public Facilities, Dalton Highway disaster emergency repairs- $5,000,000), estimated balance of $4,171,180.

Case No. 3AN-19-08349CI

ORDER GRANTING IN PART PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES

This matter is before the Court on Plaintiffs' motion for prevailing party attorney fees. The parties agree that Plaintiffs prevailed on their claims that Governor Dunleavy's line-item vetoes at issue violated the separation of powers doctrine embodied within the Alaska State Constitution. The parties also agree that in doing so, Plaintiffs prevailed on those constitutional claims, i.e., claims "concerning the establishment, protection, or enforcement of a right under the . . . Constitution of the State of Alaska." See AS 09.60.010(c). The parties further agree that Plaintiffs "did not have sufficient economic incentive" to serve as a basis for bringing the claims, and thus that Plaintiffs are entitled to recover "full reasonable attorney fees and costs" for those constitutional claims that they prevailed on. See AS 09.60.010(c) and (d). Finally, the parties agree that Plaintiffs are not entitled to recover fees associated with their claims that the Governor's vetoes at issue unconstitutionally reallocated appropriations.

Regarding Plaintiffs' entitlement to recover full reasonable fees and costs associated with their separation of powers claims, the parties also agree on the criteria that the Court should consider, and the basic process involved, in calculating the award. When determining reasonable attorney fees, the Court begins its analysis with the number of hours an attorney or attorneys reasonably spent on the prevailing claims, and then multiplies that number by a reasonable hourly rate. See e.g., Valdez Fisheries Dev. Ass'n, Inc. v. Froines, 217 P.3d 830, 833 (Alaska 2009) (Froines III). Unless there are extraordinary circumstances, the reasonable hourly rate is based on fees "customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services." Nautilus Marine Enterprises, Inc. v. Exxon Mobil Corp., 332 P.3d 554, 559-60 (Alaska 2014). The parties further agree that other factors the Court may consider in determining the reasonableness of an attorney fee rate include: the time and labor required; the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved; the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly; the preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to acceptance of the case; whether the fee is fixed or contingent; time limitations imposed by the client or the circumstances; the amount involved and the results obtained; the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys; the undesirability of the case; the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; and awards in similar cases. See, e.g., Krone v. State, Dept. of Health & Social Serv., 222 P.3d 250, 257-58 (Alaska 2009).

With all of those points of agreement in mind, the parties' primary disagreements are two-fold. The parties disagree about what attorney fee rate the Court should consider reasonable in light of the above factors, and the parties disagree about how many attorney hours were directed at the Plaintiffs' successful separation of powers claims as opposed to their unsuccessful reallocation claims. Plaintiffs request that the Court find a reasonable attorney fee rate of $600 per hour, and attribute – based upon their attorney affidavits and the Court's and parties' respective treatment of the claims – 95 percent of attorney time billed to the separation of powers claims, to arrive at 184.9 hours of attorney time, amounting to $110,950.50 in attorney fees. Defendants meanwhile urge the Court to find a reasonable attorney fee rate of $285 per hour, matching discounted rates cited by private counsel in separate lawsuits, and without offering any alternative for breaking down attorney time between Plaintiffs' successful and unsuccessful claims, request that the Court award Plaintiffs no more than $52,696.50 in attorney fees. Defendants do not appear to contest the requested award of costs amounting to $3,606.32.

Regarding a reasonable attorney fee rate, the Court notes that the separation of powers issues litigated by the parties were novel and quite difficult. As stated by the Court in its order on summary judgment, while a multitude of legal authority and precedent certainly guided and supported the Court's ultimate determination, there was no single authority or precedent that addressed separation of powers squarely in the context presented by this case. Any suggestion by Defendants that the separation of powers issues in this matter were not complex belies the positions taken and arguments made in their briefing throughout the matter. In spite of the matter's complexity, the Court agrees that the actual attorney hours expended in case were fewer than one might expect. The Court attributes this to the collective experience and efficiency of the involved counsel, and specifically does not find that such efficiency somehow suggests that this was a simple case. The Court agrees with Plaintiffs and with the attorneys providing affidavits in support of their motion that the case, and particularly the separation of powers claims, were litigated with great skill. This was consistent with the experience, reputation, and ability of those attorneys.¹ The Court is further mindful of the "risk premium" associated with Plaintiffs' counsel taking on this case while understanding that they would receive no money for doing so unless able to prevail and recover attorney fees. See Adkins v. Collens, 444 P.3d 187, 200 (Alaska 2019). Finally, the Court understands that Plaintiffs' counsels' acceptance and handling of the case may have required foregoing some amount of other cases and/or clients, but given the hours billed, does not find that Plaintiffs' counsel were precluded from significant other employment.

¹ While the Court focuses particularly upon Plaintiffs' counsel, in light of their Motion for Attorneys' Fees, the Court also notes that both Plaintiffs' and Defendants' counsel were highly skilled and presented very high-quality work in their briefing and argument.

The Court is also mindful of the parties' positions, and the evidence offered, regarding awards in similar cases, as well as what would constitute "the fee customarily charged in [this] locality for similar legal services." Nautilus Marine Enterprises, 332 P.3d at 559. Plaintiffs submit three affidavits suggesting that the fees requested by Plaintiffs are reasonable for the representation and case at issue. Plaintiffs also point to the State's hiring of Washington D.C. counsel at $600 per hour in a separate state constitutional case that the State views as headed toward the United States Supreme Court. Defendants conversely cite attorney fee awards and motions for the same in separate, recent litigation regarding significant State issues in Superior Court, and ultimately urge the Court to calculate Plaintiffs' attorney fees in this case at the discounted rate of private counsel in separate litigation – that being $285 per hour.

The Court does not find that either of the parties' proposed rates represents "the fee customarily charged in [this] locality for similar legal services." See id. Defendants' suggestion that the discounted rate for private counsel represents the fee customarily charged is not persuasive. Plaintiffs' citation of rates for counsel that the State hires for litigation that it believes will ultimately be before the United States Supreme Court is similarly difficult. Moreover, although the affidavits submitted by Plaintiffs state support for the rate Plaintiffs seek, they also estimate the standard fee for experienced litigation attorneys in Anchorage with more than ten years of experience as being between $375 and $600 per hour, with $600 per hour being the top of the range. See Affidavits of Walter Featherly, Lloyd Miller, and Heather Kendall Miller. Two of the three affidavits also state that “a total of 180 to 200 hours is well below, and fees of $110,000 to $125,000 would be well within, a normal range for a case like this.” See Affidavits of Lloyd Miller and Heather Kendall Miller. This suggests to the Court that the attorney fee rate used to arrive at the ultimate attorney fee award requested by Plaintiffs, keeping in mind the very low number of hours billed, is a higher than customary rate.

In their reply brief, Plaintiffs propose that if the Court is not satisfied that $600 per hour is the fee customarily charged in this locality for similar services, the Court should look to rates in the $450 per hour range recently awarded in separate specialized and significant State litigation. The Court notes that these rates are within the range of non-discounted rates cited by counsel involved in those lawsuits cited by Defendants on the issue of attorney fees. The Court appreciates that the non-discounted rates quoted were not requested in those separate lawsuits, but also notes that such private counsel often enjoy a greater ability to discount their rates than do counsel working on a contingency basis. Considering the evidence offered by both parties, in light of all of the factors the Court is to consider, the Court determines that a reasonable attorney fee rate in this matter is $450 per hour.

Regarding the number of attorney hours the Court should look to, the Court agrees that it should reduce the total hours worked by Plaintiffs' attorneys on the case by five percent in order to remove the hours spent on Plaintiffs' unsuccessful reallocation claim. The Court understands and agrees with Defendants' argument that it may not prorate an attorney fee award based on, for instance, the number of successful versus unsuccessful claims litigated. See e.g., Manning v. State, Department of Fish & Game, 355 P.3d 530 (Alaska 2015). And that is not what Plaintiffs propose or what the Court orders. Here, while the strongest evidence of the breakdown in time spent on various claims would be a contemporaneous breakdown of billable hours, designating particular claims worked on, and the Court encourages that type of specificity in billing where possible, the Court also recognizes that there are situations in which it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to do so designate work as regarding specific claims. Here, while Plaintiffs' counsel's statements of billable hours could have been more specific, at least in places, regarding the claims being worked on, the statements were still quite thorough and specific, and Plaintiffs' counsel have offered an affidavit attesting that five percent of the attorneys' time working on the matter was dedicated to their unsuccessful reallocation claims. This is, frankly, highly consistent with the Court's observations of the parties' time and effort spent addressing claims in motion work and oral argument. The Court's observation over the case has been that both parties very minimally, or barely, addressed these claims, with the great bulk of their time and effort being devoted to the separation of powers claims. In light of all of the above, including the Court's own experience with the case and observations of the parties, the Court accepts Plaintiffs' counsel's sworn statement that 95 percent of the hours billed by Plaintiffs' attorneys were devoted to Plaintiffs' successful separation of powers claims. This yields a total of 184.9 hours.

The Court will issue a corresponding judgment, noting that the parties' have agreed that Plaintiffs shall receive full attorney fees and costs related to their successful separation of powers claims, and having resolved the disputed issues of the reasonable fee rate and total number of hours worked, at $450 per hour and 184.9 hours, with costs being non-opposed at $3,606.32.

JUDGMENT/SETTLEMENT FUNDING REQUEST QUESTIONNAIRE

PART TWO

The following information needs to be provided on all judgment awards and/or settlements made against the State.

Case Name: ACLU et al. v. Dunleavy

Case No.: 3AN-19-08349 CI

1. Describe the circumstances or events resulting in this case and ultimately this judgment/settlement against the State.

The ACLU and two citizens filed suit against the Governor and the State of Alaska because the Governor vetoed an amount of court system funds from its FY2020 budget equal to the amount the state pays annually for elective abortions. The Governor's statement of objections accompanying the veto stated: "The Legislative and Executive Branch are opposed to State funded elective abortions; the only branch of government that insists on State funded elective abortions is the Supreme Court. The annual cost of elective abortions is reflected by this reduction." The Governor's veto came after the Alaska Supreme Court issued its decision in State v. Planned Parenthood of the Great Northwest, 436 P.3d 984 (Alaska 2019). Plaintiffs amended their complaint, after the Governor vetoed the same amount of money with a similar statement of objections: "Reduce funding for the Alaska Court System consistent with Legislative intent language included in HB 205 that no money appropriated under Medicaid Services may be expended for abortion and consistent with FY2020 reduction in funding." Plaintiffs claimed that the vetoes violated separation of powers and amounted to an unconstitutional reallocation of an appropriation. Plaintiffs asked for declaratory and injunctive relief (i.e. that the vetoes be declared unconstitutional, and thus void, and that the vetoed funds be distributed to the court system). The parties agreed that the case should be decided in cross-motions for summary judgment.

The court granted summary judgment in favor of the Plaintiffs, concluding:

1. The Governor's vetoes of $334,000 from the Court System's FY2020 and FY2021 budgets violated separation of powers;
2. The challenge to the FY2020 veto is moot, but the veto to the court system's budget for the current fiscal year is void;
3. The vetoes did not constitute a reallocation of appropriations in violation of Article II, section 15 of the Alaska Constitution.

2. Describe issues of State policy or law involved in this case, if they are relevant to and resulted in substantial effort and expense for the department to bring or defend this case.

This case implicated separation of powers issues and the scope of the governor's veto power. It was a highly publicized and highly controversial case. The case presented a question of first impression—there was very little case law to draw on for or against the claims.

3. Did the State prevail on any issues? If so, describe.

Yes, the court agreed with the State that the subject vetoes did not constitute a reallocation of appropriations in violation of Article II, section 15 of the Alaska Constitution.

4. Did we challenge plaintiffs' request for costs and fees or in other ways seek to reduce the costs to the State? If so, describe to what extent we were successful.

Yes, plaintiffs sought attorneys' fees at a rate of $600 per hour. We opposed, arguing that the requested fees were unreasonably high and do not reflect the prevailing market rate for similar cases. The court awarded fees at a rate of $450 per hour, instead.

5. What was the source of the State's liability in this case?

The court concluded that the Governor's vetoes of $334,000 from the Court System's FY2020 and FY2021 budgets violated separation of powers.

6. What, if any, preventative action has been taken by the involved agency to prevent or reduce the potential for such liability in the future?

This case presented unique facts. I do not have any concerns about potential future liability.

7. If the information is available to you, has the agency involved taken any corrective action as a result of this case? If the information is not protected from publication by statute, privilege, or right to privacy, indicate what the corrective action was.

N/A

8. Any recommendations concerning cases of this type in the future?

None.

9. Any recommendations for changes in statutes, regulations or policy? Cite any applicable statutes or regulations.

JUDGMENT/SETTLEMENT FUNDING REQUEST
QUESTIONNAIRE

PART TWO

The following information needs to be provided on all judgment awards and/or settlements made against the State.

Case Name: State, Division of Elections v. Recall Dunleavy

Case No.: S-17706

1. Describe the circumstances or events resulting in this case and ultimately this judgment/settlement against the State.

The Division of Elections declined to certify a recall petition against Governor Michael J. Dunleavy. The recall committee sued challenging the decision and the superior court held that the Division had erred in finding that four of the five grounds failed to meet the statutory criteria for recall. That decision was upheld on appeal. This judgment involves attorneys' fees for the appeal proceedings only; superior court fees were addressed in an earlier judgment form.

2. Describe issues of State policy or law involved in this case, if they are relevant to and resulted in substantial effort and expense for the department to bring or defend this case.

NA.

3. Did the State prevail on any issues? If so, describe.

Not at the appeal level.

4. Did we challenge plaintiffs' request for costs and fees or in other ways seek to reduce the costs to the State? If so, describe to what extent we were successful.

No. At the superior court, the state argued that the case involved statutory claims not constitutional claims, but did not prevail.

5. What was the source of the State's liability in this case?

The State's liability arose out of an erroneous interpretation of the scope of the statutory grounds for recall.

6. What, if any, preventative action has been taken by the involved agency to prevent or reduce the potential for such liability in the future?

NA.

7. If the information is available to you, has the agency involved taken any corrective action as a result of this case? If the information is not protected from publication by statute, privilege, or right to privacy, indicate what the corrective action was.

NA.

8. Any recommendations concerning cases of this type in the future?

No.

9. Any recommendations for changes in statutes, regulations or policy? Cite any applicable statutes or regulations.

The Legislature could consider limiting the State's exposure to attorneys' fees by narrowing the reach of AS 09.60.010.
