HB 251

HOUSE BILL NO. 251 by the House Rules Committee by request of the Governor, entitled:

The Governor's transmittal letter dated April 20, 2001, appears below:

"Dear Speaker Porter:

I am transmitting to you today a piece of legislation that I wish were not needed with hopes that some day it will become an unnecessary law on the books. This bill may be called Alaska's Hate Crime Act. It is intended to adequately punish those ignorant offenders who commit crimes based on hatred of another because of who that person is. It is intended to send the clear message that Alaskans condemn this intolerance of diversity.

This bill expands the legal protection given to those in our society most vulnerable to attack because of prejudice. Our current law allows for an aggravated sentence in felony cases if the offender was consciously attacking the victim because of that person's race, sex, color, creed, physical or mental disability, ancestry or national origin. This bill:

- Includes in the list of aggravators a victim's sexual orientation or economic disadvantage;
- Clarifies that the aggravators may apply even if the offender mistakenly perceived the victim to fall into one of the listed attributes;
- Imposes mandatory minimum sentences for hate crime misdemeanors;

- Prohibits the suspension of imposition of sentences in hate crime cases;
- Requires sanctions for juveniles who commit hate crimes including community work service and referral to a diversity tolerance program;
- Creates a civil right of action allowing victims to sue their attacker or the parents of a juvenile attacker.

This bill cannot solve the problem on its own. Punishing hate crimes will not curb bigotry. We can end the scourge of prejudice only through teaching and sharing with our children the value of cultural diversity and the respect all human beings deserve.

So with this legislation my administration will be taking further steps to teach tolerance. We will encourage school districts to create standards and guidelines for protecting students from hate crimes. We will train our public safety officers to recognize and adequately address these crimes. And I will create a statewide commission on tolerance that will recommend further actions we Alaskans may take together to build a just society.

I encourage the Legislature to stand with me in sending this message of tolerance and respect. I look forward to working together on passage of this legislation and our other efforts to make this Hate Crime Act one that will some day be a forgotten legacy of an intolerant past.

Sincerely,
/s/
Tony Knowles
Governor"
