Recognizing that in this state and in this country and on this planet there are many different beliefs and many different thought processes, in a moment I am going to ask you to go to that person, that deity, or that entity that we go to in time of need and ask for a few things. I might recommend that we ask to be kind to those who are less fortunate; to forgive our friends and even ourselves; to remember those who are separated from their families, those who are ill and infirm, and especially those today who are serving their country overseas and those who have made the ultimate sacrifice so that we can be here today to do what we do. So if we could take a moment and go into ourselves and ask for things that we think we need to be stronger today. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Representative Ramras.
