The invocation was offered by the Chaplain, the Most Reverend Roger Schwietz, Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Anchorage. Representative Wilson moved and asked unanimous consent that the invocation be spread on the journal. There being no objection, it was so ordered.

We come before you, master of the universe, as a people of this great and beautiful land desiring to be your coworkers for the common good of the people we have been chosen to serve.

You have given us the gift of intelligence and creativity. Enable those gathered here in service of our state to assume their challenging task in ways that are both humane and courageous. Grant them the gift of compassionate care for the vulnerable and suffering in our midst.

Aware of the awesome responsibility you have given to these, the representatives of our people, we ask for the gift of wisdom that you alone can give so that we the citizens of Alaska may continue to grow as a people who care for one another as well as for the beautiful land you have given us. Grant this legislative body the gift of collaboration and cooperation in the daunting task that lies before them. We thank you, Lord God, for the generosity of those who have offered themselves to serve the people of the state. Bless them, keep them safe, and be with their loved ones.

Help us all to live in the confidence that life is more powerful than death and love more powerful than hate. Yours is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, Almighty God, now and forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Representative Thompson.
