One Hundredth Day

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order by President Micciche at 11:16 a.m.

The roll showed twenty members present.

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Senator Reinbold. Senator Hoffman moved and asked unanimous consent the prayer be spread. Without objection, it was so ordered.

Dear Heavenly Father,

Our hearts are moved by the alarming news and crisis that our country and world are facing for the past year. America is the greatest nation on Earth, founded in the belief that "In God We Trust" and the "Land of the Free."

Please have mercy on those suffering in fear and isolation. Give wisdom and strength to those who are assisting in fighting to restore their freedoms and liberties.

May any force that harms the health, safety or liberty be broken by your power and may we humble ourselves before our majestic creator, and find in You our strength and refuge.

Give wisdom to our President and our world, national, and local leaders and all those with us today. Bring upon us your comforting peace through the power of your Holy Spirit. Help us here to reach out to those that have been affected by COVID and negative political impacts and government responses. Be our peace and source of wisdom today and in all the days of our life. I pray this in the name of my Lord and Savior, Christ Jesus, Amen.

Senator Gray-Jackson led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance.

SENATE BILL NO. 133 BY THE SENATE RULES COMMITTEE
BY REQUEST OF THE GOVERNOR, entitled:

"An Act relating to the sale or lease of state land for remote recreational sites; relating to permits for remote recreational sites; and providing for an effective date."

was read the first time and referred to the Resources and Finance Committees.

The following fiscal information was published today:

Fiscal Note No. 1, Department of Natural Resources

Governor's transmittal letter dated April 27:

Dear President Micciche:

Under the authority of Article III, Section 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill relating to the sale, lease, or permit of state land for remote recreational sites. The proposal establishes a framework to encourage the settlement of state land and the development of its resources. With only three percent of state land in private ownership, we need changes to allow more Alaskans to lease or purchase land for recreational purposes.

This bill provides a fair and efficient process for Alaskans to obtain an interest in state land that is consistent with our constitutional principles. The bill amends the current remote recreational cabin program to allow Alaskans to nominate and stake eligible state land for use as remote recreational sites. Eligible applicants may nominate up to ten acres of vacant, unappropriated, or unreserved state land as defined in AS 29.65.130 for a remote recreational site if that land is not already included in the Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) schedule of land offerings. Applicants must include a site survey and appraisal and agree to pay fair market value. The bill further authorizes the commissioner of DNR to permit or lease state land for remote recreational sites.

This legislation will put more land into the hands of Alaskans. It will afford Alaskans opportunities to better enjoy our state, whether setting up a seasonal recreational structure or building a cabin for their family to use for a lifetime.

I request your prompt and favorable action on this measure.

Sincerely,

Mike Dunleavy
Governor

(c) If the governor finds that a disaster has occurred or that a disaster is imminent or threatened, the governor shall, by proclamation, declare a condition of disaster emergency. The disaster emergency remains in effect until the governor or the legislature finds that the danger has passed or the disaster has been dealt with so that the emergency no longer exists. The governor may terminate the disaster emergency by proclamation or the legislature may terminate the disaster emergency by a majority vote of the members in joint session or by a concurrent resolution. A proclamation of disaster emergency may not remain in effect longer than 30 days unless extended by a majority of the members of the legislature in joint session or by a concurrent resolution. The proclamation must indicate the nature of the disaster, the area threatened or affected, and the conditions that have brought it about or that make possible the termination of the disaster emergency. A proclamation to declare a condition of disaster emergency must also state whether the governor proposes to expend state funds to respond to the disaster under (i) or (j) of this section. Unless authorized by a majority of the members of the legislature in joint session or by concurrent resolution, the governor may not declare a condition of disaster emergency
