ALASKA CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION
REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SUFFRAGE, ELECTIONS AND APPORTIONMENT

Hon. William A. Egan
President, Alaska Constitutional Convention

Dear Mr. President:

Your Committee on Suffrage, Elections and Apportionment submits the attached proposal for an apportionment article.

The article covers the following subjects:

1. A bicameral legislative body.
2. A House of Representatives composed of 40 members chosen from 24 Election districts determined by socio-economic principles of apportionment.
3. A Senate composed of 20 members chosen from Senate districts comprising certain election districts in socio-economic areas of Alaska.
4. A method of reapportionment based on the United States method of equal proportions, a method of redistricting as basic civilian population increases or decreases.
5. The Governor's Advisory Reapportionment and Redistricting Board with provisions for mandamus to compel action in keeping with constitutional rules should they be disregarded.
6. A method of staggering legislators' terms.

Committee Proposal No. 14

COMPARISON WITH PRIOR LEGISLATIVE BODIES

After careful study of the composition of the legislature since the first body was created in 1913 and of the composition of the present constitutional convention it was apparent that the composition of the Territorial Legislature left much to be desired from a representative standpoint. The 1955 constitutional convention plan was believed to be a basis for a truly representative Alaska legislature and hence was carefully studied and criticized from the viewpoint of population and of the composition of its units, the election-recording districts.

SOCIO-ECONOMIC BASIS FOR DISTRICTS

On the basis of the 1950 population, as shown by the 1950 decennial census, and with scientific estimates of 1955 population, based on school population, the Committee, with the assistance of economist George Rogers, determined that there should be 24 election districts in the State for the first State election. These districts are economic units of the Territory and may be compared in a sense to the Swiss cantons. Their boundaries are watersheds wherever possible; waterways and steamship routes are not used as boundaries, but are considered as highways piercing valleys.

METHOD OF EQUAL PROPORTIONS

The method of apportionment known as the method of equal proportions was next considered. This method is regarded as the fairest method of allotting representatives in accordance with population. It is used by the United States Congress in the apportionment of the United States House of Representatives following each decennial census and was evolved after long and careful study over many years. It is used in at least two states.

ELECTION DISTRICT PLAN

From the study of the method of equal proportions and the election districts composed of the various economic areas of the Territory it became apparent that the composition of the House should be 40. This figure would assure representation of each area (election district) in the House under 1950 population figures and give fair representation to all districts in proportion to their population; this number of representatives was also believed to be wieldy and workable. It was further determined to fix and insure one representative to each election district and constitutional language was drawn to accomplish this end. However, should population decline below a fixed minimum in any district, provision was made for the consolidation of the district with its neighbor; conversely, should the population of a single-member district increase beyond a fixed number and should it consist of a separate economic area and should the remaining area meet the constitutional standards, a new district will be created by the Governor upon the advice of the reapportionment-redistricting board.

The election districts and the representation of each based on the 1950 decennial census are as follows (a schedule will be made up giving detailed boundaries, following the holiday recess), to wit:-

- | | |
|----------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Prince of Wales (1) | 13. Kodiak (2) |
| 2. Ketchikan (2) | 14. Aleutian Islands (1) |
| 3. Wrangell-Petersburg (1) | 15. Bristol Bay (1) |
| 4. Sitka (1) | 16. Bethel (1) |
| 5. Juneau (3) | 17. Wade Hampton (1) |
| 6. Lynn Canal-Icy Straits (1) | 18. Nome (2) |
| 7. Cordova-McCarthy (1) | 19. Kobuk (1) |
| 8. Valdez-Chitna-Whittier (1) | 20. Noatak (1) |
| 9. Seward (1) | 21. Kuskokwim (1) |
| 10. Kenai-Cook Inlet (1) | 22. Yukon-Koyukuk (1) |
| 11. Anchorage (8) | 23. Upper Yukon (1) |
| 12. Talkeetna-Palmer-Wassila (1) | 24. Fairbanks (5) |

SENATE STUDIES AND COMPOSITION

Whereas, in the composition of the House of Representatives, stress was placed upon civilian population with minor consideration of area (in that election districts are assured of representation by at least one representative), in the composition of the Senate stress was placed upon area with minor stress upon socio-economic areas.

Four Senate Districts were chosen. They are made up of groups of election districts; their boundaries roughly parallel the present judicial divisions.

One of the guiding principles used to determine Senate composition was the principle that the non-urban areas should be assured of Senate representation. This was achieved by dividing the Senate into two groups. First two Senators will be chosen from four economic areas of Alaska, namely the Southeastern forest-fishing sector, the Southwestern fishing-defense sector; the Great River basin sector with its mining-trapping-defense economy, and the Arctic coastal sector with its mining-trapping-defense economy.

Election districts	1 to 6, incl.	comprise	Senate District	I
"	"	17 to 20, incl.	"	II
"	"	7 to 14, incl.	"	III
"	"	15, 16 & 21 to 24 incl.	"	IV

Each Senate district has two Senators who will be elected at large in the respective districts.

In addition, districts I and IV will have 3 Senators each; Senate district III, 4 Senators and Senate district II will have 2 Senators chosen from combinations of two successively numbered election districts.

Thus the total membership of the Senate is 20.

The following schedule shows the Senate composition:

No. of District	Number of Senators	Composition of Districts
I	Two at large; one from election districts 1 & 2; one from election districts 3 & 4; one from election districts 5 & 6; total 5	Election districts 1 to 6, inclusive
II	Two at large; one from election districts 17 & 18; one from election districts 19 & 20; total 4	Election districts 17 to 20, inclusive
III	Two at large; one from election districts 7 & 8; one from election districts 9 & 10; one from election districts 11 & 12; one from election districts 13 & 14; total 6	Election districts 7 to 14, inclusive
IV	Two at large; one from election districts 15 & 16; one from election districts 21 & 22; one from election districts 23 & 24; total 5	Election districts 15 and 16, districts 21 to 24, inclusive

STAGGERED TERMS FOR SENATORS

As senators will undoubtedly be chosen for four-year terms at general elections held in even-numbered years, (see report of the Committee on the Legislative Branch) a method is presented for staggering terms after the first State election with further provision for staggering, if the first State election is held in an odd-numbered year. The end result is that one-half the Senators will be up for election at each general election following the first State election.

REAPPORTIONMENT AND REDISTRICTING BOARD

The committee proposes that the matter of reapportionment and redistricting be primarily an executive function. It proposes a five-man advisory and nonpartisan board, representative of the economic areas of the State, to submit a reapportionment or redistricting plan to the Governor following the release of the official United States decennial census. The Governor must, by proclamation, reapportion or redistrict within three months after the submission of the board plan. The board can engage experts. The United States census performs this task for other states through its experts, and this service will be available.

If the Governor fails to perform the assigned duty or fails to follow constitutional provisions, mandamus in the State Supreme Court will be available to force his actions.

Alaskan United States Senators and the first Alaskan Congressman must of necessity be chosen at large in accordance with the federal constitution.

CONCLUSION

The above outlines committee thought in general.

Following the holiday recess, schedules showing population of election districts and their precise boundaries and maps will be furnished the delegates with further detailed explanation. Convention necessities and time limitations have made it impossible to submit these schedules earlier.

LEGISLATIVE APPORTIONMENT

RESOLVED, that the following be agreed upon as part of the Alaska State Constitution.

Composition of House:
Apportionment

1 Section 1. The House of Representatives shall be
2 composed of forty members elected by the qualified
3 voters of the respective election districts. Until 4 the first and subsequent reapportionments, the elec-
5 tion districts and the number of representatives to 6 be elected from each at the first State election
7 shall be as set forth in the schedule in Article ____.

Reapportionment of House

8 Section 2. Immediately following the official
9 reporting of the 1960 census of the United States, or 10 the first regular legislative session of the State
11 of Alaska if it occurs thereafter, and after every 12 subsequent census, the Governor shall reapportion
13 the House of Representatives according to civilian
14 population as reported by the census within each 15 election district. Reapportionment shall be by the 16 method known as the method of equal proportions ex-
17 cept that each election district having the major

1 fraction of the quotient obtained by dividing total
2 civilian population by forty shall have one represent-
3 ative. Should the total civilian population within 4 any election district fall below one-half of the 5 quotient, such election district shall be attached
6 to the election district within its Senate sub-
7 district and the reapportionment shall be determined
8 for the new district as provided above. The Governor
9 may further redistrict by changing the size and area
10 of districts, subject to the following limitations:
11 the new election districts so created shall be formed
12 of contiguous and compact territory, shall contain
13 a population at least equal to the quotient obtained
14 by dividing the total civilian population by forty,
15 shall contain as nearly as practicable relatively 16 integrated socio-economic areas, may give consider-
17 ation to local government boundaries, and shall use 18 drainage and other geographic features in describing 19 boundaries wherever possible. Provided that the

RESOLVED, that the following be agreed upon as part of the Alaska State Constitution.

ARTICLE VI

Election
Districts

1 Section 1. Members of the house of representatives
2 are elected by the qualified voters of the respective
3 election districts. Until reapportionment, election
4 districts and the number of representatives to be elec-

13 cial reporting of each decennial census of the United 14 States. Reapportionment shall be based upon civilian 15 population within each election district as reported by 16 the census.

Method

1 Section 4. Reapportionment shall be by the method
2 of equal proportions, except that each election district
3 having the major fraction of the quotient obtained by 4 dividing total civilian population by forty shall have 5 one representative.

9 district within its senate district and the reapportion-
10 ment for the new district shall be determined as provided
11 in this article.

Redistricting

12 Section 6. The governor may further redistrict by

9 apportionment duties must be filed within thirty
10 days of the expiration of either of the two ninety-11 day periods specified in this article. Application to 12 compel correction of any error in redistricting or reap-
