Re: Support for Senate Bill 162 – Ending Local Sales Taxes on Gold and Silver

Dear Senator Olson,

On behalf of the Sound Money Defense League, I ask you to please vote YES on SB 162, a measure that ensures gold and silver coins and bullion remain tax-free, and reaffirms them as legal tender in the state of Alaska.

Under current law, Alaska doesn't levy a sales tax on gold and silver, but boroughs and other localities could. Alaska citizens are discouraged from insuring their savings against the devaluation of the dollar when they are penalized with taxation for doing so. 44 states have partially or fully eliminated sales taxes on purchases of gold and silver in their state.

Passage of this measure would ensure there are no disincentives to holding gold and silver for this purpose. Senate Bill 162 is important for a few reasons:

- Investments are not typically subject to sales tax. Alaska does not tax the purchase of stocks, bonds, ETFs, currencies, and other financial instruments. Gold and silver are held as forms of savings and investment. Taxing precious metals is unfair to certain savers and investors.
- Studies have shown that taxing precious metals is an inefficient form of revenue collection. The results of one study involving Michigan show that any sales tax proceeds a state collects on precious metals are likely surpassed by the state revenue lost from conventions, businesses, and economic activity that are driven out of the state.

In total, 44 states (including Alaska) and the overwhelming majority of cities and boroughs across the nation have reduced or eliminated sales tax on the monetary metals.

- Taxing gold and silver harms local businesses. It's a competitive marketplace, so buyers will take their business to neighboring municipalities or online with more fair tax laws on precious metals, thereby undermining jobs. Levying sales tax on precious metals harms local businesses who will lose business to other precious metals dealers. Investors can easily avoid paying hundreds of dollars in sales taxes, for example, on a $5,000 purchase of a one-ounce gold bar.

- Levying sales taxes on precious metals is inappropriate. Sales taxes are typically levied on final consumer goods. Computers, shirts, and shoes carry sales taxes because the consumer is "consuming" the good. Precious metals are inherently held for resale, not "consumption," making the application of sales taxes on precious metals inappropriate.
- Taxing precious metals is harmful to citizens attempting to protect their assets. Purchasers of precious metals aren't fat-cat investors. Most who buy precious metals do so in small increments as a way of saving money. Precious metals investors are purchasing precious metals as a way to preserve their wealth against the damages of inflation. Inflation harms the poorest among us, including pensioners, Alaskans on fixed incomes, wage earners, savers, and more.

That's why we ask you to vote YES on SB 162. The bill is expected to be heard before the Senate State Affairs Committee soon.

We hope Alaska will follow the example set by the vast majority of states that have eliminated sales taxes on precious metals, honored the only form of money mentioned in the U.S. Constitution, and lowered the tax burden on their constituents.

Please let me know if you have any questions about the bill. I am eager to discuss this important subject with you. My phone number is (404) 948-8935 and my email is jp.cortez@soundmoneydefense.org.

Sincerely,
