Dear Chairman Birch and members of Senate Resources Committee:

Please include this letter of support for SB87 into the document packet for the hearing on SB 87.

I am writing in support of SB 87 proposed by Senator Coghill. It is time for resident Alaskans to have priority over our resources in times of shortage. To allow non-residents priority over residents when resources are in short supply is in direct conflict with our interests as a state. Obviously, this doesn't change anything when resources are flush and only applies when there is a shortage. This is a common sense approach to game and resource management. I hunt in many states around the country, as a non-resident. I realize that the resources allocated by those states give first priority to its citizens of their respective states is their right and rightfully so. Alaska has been catering to the guide industry by allowing non-residents priority over its citizens. The guide industry (of which there are plenty of non-residents) should not be dictating what is right for Alaskans. Please support SB 87. Thanks in advance. Ken Radach (member of RHAK, RMEF, Pope & Young, NAHC, and a 100% voter).
