ACTA'S Study of the Core Curriculum: What Will They Learn? TM

82% of four-year colleges and universities do not require foundational study of American history or government

Bottom Line

“We need clear requirements for knowledge of American institutions, not vague statements of purpose. Good intentions are not a substitute for a curriculum.”

“Make it a required course. Simply require it.”

James Madison 1822

Learned Institutions ought to be favorite objects with every free people. They throw that light over the public mind which is the best security against crafty & dangerous encroachments on the public liberty. ...

What spectacle can be more edifying or more seasonable, than that of Liberty & Learning, each leaning on the other for their mutual & surest support?
