Please oppose SB 199/HB 282
Date: [REDACTED]

Dear Alaska Senate Resources Committee,

I am concerned about the Governor's legislative proposal SB 199/HB 282 that would allow widespread commercial development of Alaska's state-owned public lands. Our public lands provide outdoor recreation opportunities, hunting and fishing access, and supports the habitat that sustains our fish and wildlife populations. While I support a balanced approach to land management planning, SB 199/HB 282 goes too far and gives too much power to the DNR commissioner to reclassify lands for commercial development regardless of the implications. Not every portion of state land is suitable for development especially when state land has already been set aside for recreation, the protection of fish and wildlife habitat or other designations to protect access and the public interest. Alaska's state-owned public lands are a resource that we all share. I urge you to vote no on SB 199/HB 282.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Honorable Governor Dunleavy

PO BOX 11001
Juneau AK 99811-0001

Dear Honorable Dunleavy,

I am strongly in support of your SB 198 Recreational Sites and SB 199. Long story short. I was born and raised in Alaska for the past 75 years.

In the late 1940's my father established a hunting camp. We have used this camp continuously to this day. In the early 1980's the State of Alaska in their ultimate wisdom had us apply for a personal use cabin permit. We applied and were given cabin site # ADL-222009.

At the time of filing we had to put the names of all users on the permit. There is no provision to add any names to this original permit. Forty years have passed and people have died off. I have spent over twenty years with the Department of Natural Resources and our legislature to come up with the means that we can add new names or transfer these sites to no avail. Our older generations have passed and we want our younger generation to be able to carry this forward.

This is a tremendous step forward. I know the committee process will make changes but if a person keeps their eye on the ball, the years of frustration will be rewarded. There will be many true Alaskans who will benefit.

The only help I have had on this issue is from my very good and personal friends Richard and Leilla Shultz as well as Mel Gillis.

Sincerely,

Douglas R Frederick

I just had a quick glance at SB199....the instant response is not just no, but...well you know.

I have heard too often that 'govmint locks up the land'. The real lock up is private ownership....if you doubt this, try and visit Campbell Lake in Anchorage. Or access Chugach State Park from some neighborhoods. Or try to hunt moose in public lands which are blocked by private land along the highway. You won't.

This proposal -- to basically open up State land to corrupt and hidden influence without any oversight is just plain WRONG.

Don't do it.

Re: SB 199

Dear Senate Resources Committee Members:

Thank you for this opportunity to comment on SB 199. My concerns lie with section 3, extending land disposal authority to the Department of Transportation. I encourage your committee to remove section 3 of SB 199 for the following reasons:

1. It will give unlimited authority to a single individual, the Commissioner of DOT, to dispose of public land if DNR does not act in 45 days. Section 3 spells out no process and places no restrictions on the DOT Commissioner when disposing of DOT lands. If passed as written, this bill creates the potential for misuse of a public resource.
2. Any responsible land disposal process should seek highest and best use of the resource. This requires a process that is transparent, that is fair and that is competitive. Most importantly, the process must include the public. Instead, section 3 grants sole authority to the DOT commissioner, a political appointee, and cuts out the public completely.
3. No maps or inventory of DOT lands appear to be available to determine what lands might be eligible for disposal now or in the near future. It's critical this information be made available to the public. Such a map might also be helpful to each of you as you review the content of this bill.
4. Extending land disposal duties to DOT could have a fiscal impact on the department if it must not only dispose of land but also create a new process for disposing of that land. This could require funding additional positions at a time when the governor strives to trim and streamline departments. Furthermore, the DOT commissioner has stated publicly that he has an inexperienced staff. Is this DOT staff up to the task of creating policy and implementing a new process that lies outside their current job description?
5. What's wrong with the current process for disposing of DOT lands? DOT builds roads. They are not land managers. DNR employs professional land managers. Let's leave state land disposal to the management professionals at DNR.

Please strike section 3 from SB 199 for the above reasons. Public land disposal must include public notice and public input, along with a fair and competitive process, which section 3 of this bill does not. Please continue to entrust land disposal to the professionals at DNR, as the current policy requires.

Sincerely,
Thomas Pease

Dear Alaska Senate Resources Committee,

I am an attorney in Washington State and it is now clear to me that the government views its constituents as being big business and not the American people. Our country has a long and sordid history of ignoring the rights of Indigenous Peoples and of mistreating them. Once again, the government is ignoring the rights of our Indigenous Peoples.

I am opposed to the Governor's legislative proposal SB 199/HB 282 that would allow widespread commercial development of Alaska's state-owned public lands. Here's a new slogan for you: AMERICA'S PUBLIC LANDS--FOR SALE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS!

Our public lands are supposed to be owned by the American people. They are supposed to be protected in order to provide for outdoor recreation opportunities, ecological purposes, and to support the habitat that sustains our fish and wildlife populations. While there should be a balanced approach to land management planning, SB 199/HB 282 goes too far and gives an enormous amount of authority to the DNR commissioner to reclassify lands for commercial development regardless of the implications.

It is meaningless to say that these are public lands and then to turn them over to corporations that have a duty to exploit public resources for private profit. The protection of public lands for the benefit of the public and for the ecological welfare of the land and the animals that reside there should be the paramount purpose for which DNR operates. Alaska's state-owned public lands are supposed to be a resource that we all share. I urge you to vote no on SB 199/HB 282.

Alaskans have airplanes and jet boats to access remote areas, particularly in the Susitna Valley. There is a thriving commercial industry of air taxis, water taxis and outfitters in South Central Alaska to provide transportation for those who prefer to rent their ride. Let's keep our remote land remote as we always have in the last frontier. These bills are state over reach on private individuals and private industry.

Dear Alaska Senate Resources Committee,

I lived in Alaska for over twenty years before moving out of state for five years. I had moved to a state where private land owners had control of 98% of the state's best hunting, fishing and recreational locations and this eliminated residents to use these lands that we as Alaska offer not only the residents but through proper permitting - visitors access to these unique locations that ONLY Alaska has to offer. If you take away the most valuable asset the state has to offer- not only will we find ourselves devoid of a vast untouched wilderness, but those who own that resources will not be Alaskan residents nor care about the quality that environment once offered to us.

Imagine tiny pockets of public land that are overstressed with residential use to hunt, fish and recreate because you allowed outsiders control of our land. The wilderness and the opportunities our vast public lands offers is what brings people to Alaska from all over the world.

I am concerned about the Governor's legislative proposal SB 199/HB 282 that would allow widespread commercial development of Alaska's state-owned public lands. Dear Senators Bishop and Giessel and members of the Senate Resources Committee:

I am writing to express my opposition to SB 199 (and companion HB 282), which expands the powers of the commissioner of DEED to dispose of land.

It is not clear what the real intent is for the changes to the statute, and that alone is cause for concern. But given the broad change in authority, this bill appears to be a way to allow privatization of public land without public oversight.

Thank you,

Doug Woodby

Dear Alaska Senate Resources Committee,

Hi Legislators, I, Steven Bridwell, am concerned about Governor Dunleavy's legislative proposal SB 199/HB 282 allowing commercial development of Alaska's state-owned public lands.

Alaska's public lands provide outdoor recreation opportunities, hunting and fishing access, and support habitat which sustain our fish and wildlife populations. Wrong it is to give public land to private entities, thus SB 199/HB 282 allots too much power to Alaska's DNR commissioner to reclassify lands for commercial development regardless the implications.

Please listen to the 1950s Alaska Constitutional Convention tapes (found through UAF's e-library), particularly the first two days in which Bob Bartlett and Ernest Gruening speak regarding Alaska's excellence and our need to "End American Colonialism." SB 199/HB282 is colonialism: to give away our assets without compensation, without benefiting Alaskans ever, without considering the future generations of us who were born here and desire to live here our entire lives is a violation of our human rights. I'm 36, and at Governor Dunleavy's rate of resource extraction gifts and human rights reductions if I'm lucky to be 80 I'll look out on Anchorage's Front Range and see mines all the way up the mountains.

For the sake of Alaska's future and the futures of children, I urge you to vote No on SB 199/HB 282.

Thank you for your time and service.

Sincerely,
Steven Bridwell
