

Senate Bill (SB) 69

Sexual Assault Examination Kit Tracking System

Senate Finance Committee

April 10, 2025

Susie Frenzel

Director, Victim Services and Forensic Science

David Kanaris

Chief, Forensic Laboratory

Department of Public Safety

Key Provisions

- Timelines for transmittal and testing of Sexual Assault Kits
- Codifying the Sexual Assault Kit Tracking System
- Survivor Rights and Transparency

STATE OF ALASKA
Sexual Assault Evidence Kit

NAME: _____

GENDER: FEMALE MALE DATE OF BIRTH: _____

EVIDENCE — EVIDENCE — EVIDENCE
TO BE OPENED BY AUTHORIZED PERSONNEL ONLY

EXAMINER: _____

Time Processing of Kits

- Medical providers must notify law enforcement within 14 days after evidence collection
 - New Requirement
- Law enforcement must transfer kits to an accredited laboratory within 20 days
 - Currently 30 days
- Laboratory must complete testing within 120 days
 - Currently 180 days

Survivor Rights and Transparency

- Survivors must be notified when their kits are tested
- The tracking system enables survivors to stay informed and connected to their case without compromising their privacy or needing to re-engage with law enforcement
- The system ensures survivors can securely monitor the status of their kits and opt-in for automated updates

Codification of the Sexual Assault Kit Tracking System

- Sexual assault examination kit tracking system will be operated by the Department of Public Safety
- Data remains confidential to protect survivor privacy

Thank You

Susie Frenzel, Director, Victim Services and Forensic Science

David Kanaris, Chief, Scientific Crime Detection Laboratory

Laurel Shoop, Legislative Liaison

Alaska Department of Public Safety

Susie.Frenzel@Alaska.gov | o: 907-269-0145

David.Kanaris@Alaska.gov | o: 907-269-5621

Laurel.Shoop@Alaska.gov | o: 907-269-5618

Department of Public Safety