Maybe you and the others can try to solve the drug and crime issues we have. Just saw an article on MSN that listed Alaska in 1st place, but that's 1st place for highest crime. I also just looked up the unemployment rate for 2017 on the US Department of Labor, well, we got another gold medal for the highest unemployment. Seems our elected officials might just have some work to get done, really, we are not beating out one state. Not sure if you will be doing it for me, since I'm looking every weekend for a place in Idaho to move my family. Born and raised here and done with all the tender love and care we give the unproductive, worthless folks that drag on society. Rather than figuring out what the next break for the losers is, why don't we lay the hammer down on them. Maybe we can force them out of state, rather than the producers.

As you probably figured out by reading this, I'm not very happy that I have to look to move my family just to find a safe place to live and WORK, seems backwards to me, shouldn't we be moving the law breakers to work camps instead?

Sincerely,
