

Chickaloon Village Traditional Council
(Nay'dini'aa Na' Kayax)

April 23, 2025

Chief Gary Harrison,
Chairman/Elder

To: Alaska Tribal Affairs Committee

Rick Harrison,
Vice-Chair

Ref: Chickaloon's Criminal Jurisdiction & Judicial Process

Larraine "Rain" Wade,
Secretary/Elder

Chickaloon Village was the first Tribe in Alaska to implement a Tribal Criminal Code, leading efforts to strengthen Tribal sovereignty and justice systems statewide. Our Tribal Court exercises jurisdiction over misdemeanor-level offenses within our boundaries.

Cheryl Sherman,
Treasurer

Felony and major crimes are referred to the State District Attorney's Office or the U.S. Attorney's Office, depending on jurisdiction and severity.

Emily Peterson,
Member

Philip Ling,
Member

We work in coordination with the Alaska Department of Law to ensure cases are properly routed to the correct prosecutorial agency based on legal authority and location of the offense.

Doug Wade,
Member/Elder

Focus Areas of Enforcement

CTPD focuses resources on the most serious and urgent issues impacting our Tribal citizens and surrounding communities:

Donna Anthony,
Chief of Police

- Missing and Murdered Indigenous Persons (MMIP)
- Human Trafficking
- Drug Distribution and Substance Abuse
- Sexual Assault and Gender-Based Violence
- Domestic Violence (DV)
- Crimes covered under the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA)

Deven Stewlow,
Police Lieutenant

Dayna Carden,
Admin Assistant II

Bret Chisholm,
Program Manager

Our officers are trained in trauma-informed policing and victim-centered response practices, ensuring culturally respectful engagement and survivor support.

Terri Lawson,
Victim Specialist

Population & Regional Reach

Todd Herring,
Patrol Sgt.

L.D. Howard,
Detective Sgt.

Chickaloon Village has 328 enrolled Tribal citizens, but our law enforcement services extend well beyond that. Our jurisdiction includes many Alaska Native citizens from other Tribes who reside within our lands or access essential services here.

Tom Helzer
Police Officer I

Doug. Paradise
Police Officer I

A key example is the Bentanut'a Health Clinic, which serves approximately 26,000 Alaska Native and American Indian patients each year. Many of these individuals travel into our jurisdiction, making Chickaloon a hub for care — and requiring an equally strong public safety presence.

Inter-Tribal Collaboration & MOAs

To expand regional access to justice and support law enforcement coverage, Chickaloon has Memorandums of Agreement (MOAs) with six fellow federally recognized Tribes:

- Dot Lake Village
- Port Heiden Village Council
- Native Village of Eklutna
- Native Village of Chitina
- Organized Village of Kake
- Native Village of Toksook Bay

These MOAs support shared Tribal Court services, inter-jurisdictional law enforcement response, and a growing network of cooperation across rural Alaska.

Current Challenges with the State

Although CTPD holds an FBI ORI number, formally recognizing us as a government police agency with federal database access, we still face significant barriers at the state level:

- Lack of APSC Certification Recognition: Despite our training standards, our officers cannot be certified through the Alaska Police Standards Council, limiting their credentials and full inclusion in the broader law enforcement community.
- Jurisdictional Misunderstanding: Some state agencies remain unclear or hesitant regarding Tribal authority, which can slow coordination and public safety response.
- Lack of State-Level Recognition: Without formal acknowledgment by the State of Alaska, our officers face limitations in interagency legitimacy, career development, and cooperation opportunities.

What We Are Requesting

To close these critical gaps, we respectfully request that the State of Alaska and APSC:

1. Formally recognize the Chickaloon Tribal Police Department as a state-acknowledged law enforcement agency.
2. Allow APSC certification for Chickaloon Tribal Police Officers who meet or exceed all training and professional standards.
3. Support stronger cross-jurisdictional partnerships that ensure seamless cooperation between Tribal, state, and federal agencies

Strength Through Partnership

Chickaloon seeks not separation, but partnership. We want to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with local, state, and federal law enforcement to ensure all Alaskans — Native and non-Native alike — receive prompt, professional, and culturally competent protection.

By recognizing CTPD, Alaska has the opportunity to honor Tribal sovereignty, improve public safety, and help build a more inclusive justice system.

Sincerely,

Donna Anthony

CURRICULUM VITAE

Donna Anthony is the Chief of Police for the Chickaloon Tribal Police Department and has over 20 years of law enforcement and security experience that includes being a sworn Police Officer with the Palmer Police Department in Alaska, and a Deputy Sheriff in Ohio. During her time with Palmer, she was a Field Training Officer (FTO) and an investigator assigned to the Alaska State Trooper Statewide Drug Task Force Unit in an undercover capacity. She served as a case officer in several State and Federal cases. She has also worked throughout Alaska with many law enforcement agencies including the U.S. Marshals, DEA, ATF, and FBI.

Donna has extensive training in SWAT, Rapid Response to an Active Shooter, Tactical Vehicle Assault, Tactical Firearms, Hostage Negation, Tactical Raid Planning, Undercover Techniques, Tactical Narcotics Techniques, Surveillance Platform Operations, Anti-Terrorism Training, Law Enforcement Prevention & Deterrence of Terrorist Acts, Tactical Operations Planning, FEMA Intermediate for Expanding Incidents, FEMA Advance Incident Command & General Staff-Complex Incidents.

Donna has graduated from the Bureau of Indian Affairs-Office of Justice Services, United States Indian Police Advance Academy completing the Lt. Command School (2022) and the Chief of Police Command School (2024).

Donna is currently on the board for the Woman Police of Alaska, the Alaska Police and Fire Chaplains, the Matanuska-Susitna Borough Local Emergency Planning Committee (LEPC), the FBI CJIS Tribal Task Force and a member of the Alaska Police Chief's Association.

Donna has received numerous awards for her work including the National Association of School Resource Officers Award (NASRO), Sheriff's Commendations, Hero's Award, Palmer Chamber of Commerce, Alaska State Troopers (AST) Award for Commendation for Honorable Service, DEA Award of Appreciation, AST Mat-Su Drug Unit Task Force Award for Dedication, Governors Award from Governor Sean Parnell and the Enrique "Kiki" Camarena (In memory of DEA Agent) Award presented by the Palmer Elks lodge, as well as a lifesaving award for valor.

Donna sustains the highest integrity professionally and personally. She diligently cares about her community and actively supports it. Volunteering her time, she created the Santa Cop & Heroes program in the Mat-Su Valley and without fail has serviced our Senior Citizens each Christmas since 2005. Because of this she was awarded Volunteer of the Year in 2012 by Governor Sean Parnell and First Lady Sandy Parnell. Exceptional as a leader and grounded as a team player, Donna has surrounded herself and her company with a strong team of knowledgeable and dedicated professionals that uphold her vision of community care.
