FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2025 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. SB97

Analysis

This legislation would create a guide concession permit program managed by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) on state lands, essentially limiting the number of guides that could operate in a designated area.

The bill requires coordination and consultation among state agencies, each with specific responsibilities within the program to address elements of wildlife conservation, land management, and regulation of professional guiding services. To implement and administer the new guide concession program, DNR, the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G), the Board of Game (BOG), and the Big Game Commercial Services Board (BGCSB) are responsible for and required to consult together on different aspects of the program, including adopting regulations; issuing, renewing, transferring, suspending, or revoking a guide concession permit; establishing guide concession areas; and determining the number of permits and authorizations available for each area.

Establishment of a guide concession area would be initiated via a BOG proposal; a person may submit a proposal to establish an area to the BOG for consideration at a regularly scheduled region meeting. Additionally, the BOG is specifically tasked with determining the number of permits for both full and limited permit types issued for a guide concession area and the specific authorizations attached to each permit. The BOG may establish an advisory board composed of representatives of the involved agencies (DNR, ADF&G, BGCSB, and BOG) and interested members of the public to assist the board in making that determination.

Additional Division of Wildlife Conservation (DWC) staff time would still be required to prepare and provide to the BOG, DNR, and BGCSB wildlife data as well as resident, non-resident, guided, and unguided hunt data to inform consideration and determination of guide concession areas, the number of permits, and the specific authorizations for each permit. DWC routinely develops information for the BOG on proposals related to wildlife management. However, this new guide concession program creates additional duties and is more focused on social issues rather than directed wildlife management.

Additionally, as one of the consultation agencies, the department expects to be heavily involved in other aspects of this new program, including participating in the advisory board process to determine the number of and authorizations for permits, the development of DNR regulations for the program, reviewing and scoring of applications with DNR as part of the open and competitive process for issuance of permits, and the process for suspending or revoking a guide concession permit.

The department anticipates personal services costs to DWC for an additional Wildlife Biologist III (permanent full-time) position at $112.3 to assist with standing up the new program and managing the department's ongoing responsibilities.
