

I am on Social Security but do eat some of that Alaskan Salmon rather than fish caught by Thai Slavers. I use my small income to buy American or at least Western Hemisphere. Was following an elderly retired mining engineer who wrote about how the mining companies for which he worked never made safe banks for keeping waste from spilling into rivers and watersheds. As a lower 48 part Native American I can only write in support of those of you who will protect the land.

--

Helen Steely

If you do not know where you are going then any road can take you there.