FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2026 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. CSHB101(FIN)

Analysis

The House Finance Committee Substitute for House Bill 101, version I, raises the age for minors who may be victims of various crimes, such as sexual abuse of a minor, murder, enticement of a minor, distribution of obscene material to a minor, and other crimes, from 16 to 18 years of age. The House Finance CS provides that, in different categories of sexual abuse of a minor crimes, the offender must be at least two years older than the victim to fit the definition of that offense, and in certain situations the offender must be at least six years older than the victim. Specific age gaps between offender and victim were added for several other age-based crimes as well.

Overall, raising the age of consent will have the effect of making more conduct fit the definition of many age-based crimes. It is anticipated that it will lead to more criminal cases being filed by the Department of Law for those crimes against minors. The court system does not have data or information with which to estimate the increase in workload in the courts that this bill would generate.

The court system will monitor the impacts of this bill to determine if it will require fiscal resources in the future, but at this time, the court system submits this zero fiscal note.
