REPRESENTATIVE BILL THOMAS

House Bill 255 Sponsor Statement

Alaska's Ban on Texting, and Other Typing and Reading Words on Video Screens.

In December of 2011 one court ruled that Alaska's current law, which bans looking at video screens and increases the criminal penalties for injuries when they are caused by that conduct, was not worded clearly. Other courts have indicated they may rule similarly. The ruling stated that the current law did not bar texting while driving a moving vehicle.

This bi-partisan legislation reestablishes what the 2008 Legislature intended – that typing or reading messages on a video screen is covered by Alaska law as criminal conduct. It is widely recognized that texting while driving a vehicle can kill or severely injure innocent people, as well as the driver. This bill is crafted to remain consistent with the existing legislation. It exempts certain emergency uses and mapping devices, and simply adds that the law passed in 2008 banning using video screens in a moving vehicle also includes a ban on typing or reading on a computer, cell phone, or other video or computer screen in a moving vehicle. The language is written so that similar activities on social media sites will be covered, and prohibited while people are driving a vehicle.

The bill recognizes that other legislators have filed legislation on a separate subject – talking on and dialing cell phones while driving. Alaska currently has no per se ban on that activity. This bill does not address that issue at all. It leaves the debate on that subject for the bills on that subject that have been filed. The bill is simply aimed at clarifying the law passed in 2008 so that activity such as texting or reading texts is banned.
