SUPREME COURT ACTIVITY

Filings: During FY11, 448 cases were filed in the supreme court. Appeal filings increased by 38 percent from the previous year, while petitions for hearing were up 15 percent and petitions for review were up 27 percent. The category that includes bar matters, federal certification matters, and original applications decreased by 24 percent. For details about filings in various categories of cases from FY07 through FY11, see page 3.

Dispositions: The supreme court disposed of 375 cases in FY11, a 3 percent increase from FY10. The court issued 82 full opinions, 21 MO&Js, and two published orders. For details about dispositions by case type in FY11, see page 6. For comparisons of dispositions by case type from FY07 through FY11, see page 3.

Pending Caseload: On June 30, 2011, 413 cases were pending, a 21 percent increase from the end of FY10. Sixty-two percent of these pending cases were at a stage prior to submission to the court (filing pending, awaiting settlement conference, awaiting record or transcripts, awaiting briefs, awaiting argument or conference, or awaiting response to a petition). Four percent were stayed or were awaiting rehearing or record return prior to closing, and the remaining 34 percent were under advisement (submitted to the court but awaiting circulation of a draft opinion, publication of an opinion, or decision on a petition). For a comparison of cases pending at year's end according to case type from FY07 through FY11, see page 3. For the status of cases pending at the end of FY11 according to case type, see page 7.

Time Required for Disposition of Cases: In fifty percent of appeals decided by opinion or MO&J, the time from submission (usually the date of oral argument or conference on the briefs) to publication of a decision was 5.4 months or less. Fifty percent of petitions, bar matters, and original applications were completed (from opening to closing) in 2.6 months or less. Additional information about time to disposition can be found at page 8.

Alaska Court of Appeals

COURT OF APPEALS ACTIVITY

Filings: During FY11, 249 cases were filed in the court of appeals. One hundred eighty-nine merit appeals were filed in FY11, a 9 percent decrease from the previous year. Sentence appeal filings were up 47 percent. Thirty-two petitions for review and petitions for hearing were filed, a 10 percent increase from FY10. Six original applications and bail appeals were filed in FY11, 25 percent fewer than in FY10. For a comparison of filings in various case categories from FY07 through FY11, see page 11.

Dispositions: The court of appeals disposed of 253 cases in FY11. This was down substantially from the 571 cases disposed in FY10, because that larger number included over 200 dispositions in cases that had been filed after the United States Supreme Court issued its decision in Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. 296 (2004), regarding the constitutionality of sentencing guidelines. The numbers for FY11 reflect a more regular caseload. The court issued 45 full opinions and 102 memorandum opinions. For details about the types and caseload composition of dispositions in FY11, see page 14. For comparisons of dispositions by case type from FY07 through FY11, see page 11.

Pending Caseload: On June 30, 2011, 444 cases were pending before the court of appeals. Seventy percent of these cases were at a stage prior to submission to the court (filing pending, awaiting record, awaiting briefing, awaiting conference or oral argument, or awaiting response to a petition). Three percent were awaiting rehearing or record return prior to closing, and the remaining 27 percent were under advisement (submitted to the court but awaiting circulation of a draft opinion, filing of an opinion, or a decision on a petition). For a comparison of cases pending at year's end according to case type from FY07 through FY11, see page 9. For the status of cases pending at the end of FY11 according to case type, see page 15.

Statewide Trial Courts

Trial Court Activity

Filings: During FY11, 164,180 cases were filed in the trial courts, an increase of 1.3% from 162,069 filings in FY10. Statewide felony filings increased by 1 percent.

Dispositions: The trial courts disposed of 160,599 cases in FY11, a decrease of 4.0% from the 167,286 dispositions reported in FY10. To reduce the backlog of cases awaiting disposition, courts aspire to have a clearance rate of 100% or higher, which means that they have cleared (i.e., disposed of) at least as many cases as were filed in the period. The clearance rate for trial court cases was 97.8% in FY11.

Explanatory Notes:

Felony Filings: Most felony cases are initiated in district court, and then transferred to superior court after indictment by a grand jury or the filing of an information. Since most of the activity in a felony case typically occurs in superior court, felony cases are reported as superior court filings regardless of where they began. Tables showing felony cases initiated in the district courts are provided for informational purposes (pages 103 and 104). These tables are not included in the district court totals, but should be considered when evaluating the workload of a district court.

Criminal Case Categorization: Criminal cases are categorized based on the most serious charge at filing. For example, if a defendant is charged with a felony and two misdemeanors, the case is counted as a felony. If the felony charge is subsequently reduced to a misdemeanor, the case type does not change; the case is still categorized as a felony for reporting purposes.

Reopened Cases: The criminal filing statistics in this report include only new case filings and do not include petitions to revoke probation or other proceedings that cause the court to reopen a case. Petitions to revoke probation significantly impact the trial court workload. Anchorage judges, for example, handled 1,952 felony petitions to revoke probation and 2,466 misdemeanor petitions to revoke probation in FY11.

Domestic Violence Cases: Domestic violence and stalking cases may be filed in either district or superior court, but district courts handle the vast majority. To make it easier to see the total number of domestic violence cases that were filed, domestic violence and stalking cases filed in the superior court are counted with the district court cases.

Criminal cases typically contain multiple charges. The Alaska Court System categorizes cases for reporting purposes based on the most serious charge.

In FY07 the Alaska Court System changed the way it categorizes criminal cases for annual reporting. The categories now conform to the National Center for State Courts' national model for caseload statistical reporting. This change is intended to make Alaska's statistics easier to compile, understand, and compare to those of other jurisdictions.

Criminal cases typically contain multiple charges. The Alaska Court System categorizes cases for reporting purposes based on the most serious charge.

In FY07 the Alaska Court System changed the way it categorizes criminal cases for annual reporting. The categories now conform to the National Center for State Courts' national model for caseload statistical reporting. This change is intended to make Alaska's statistics easier to compile, understand, and compare to those of other jurisdictions.

In FY07 the Alaska Court System changed the way it categorizes minor offenses for annual reporting. The traffic categories now conform to the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators (AAMVA) Code Dictionary. This change is intended to make Alaska's statistics easier to compile, understand and compare to those of other jurisdictions.
