SUPPORTING YOUR CHILD IN GRADE FIVE
ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS

START HERE

*America's schools are working to provide higher quality instruction

The way we taught students in the past simply does not prepare them for the higher demands of college and careers today and in the future. Your school and schools throughout the country are working to improve teaching and learning to ensure that all children will graduate high school with the skills they need to be successful.

In English language arts and literacy, this means three major changes. Students will continue reading and writing. But in addition to stories and literature, they will read more texts that provide facts and background knowledge in areas including science and social studies. They will read more challenging texts and be asked more questions that will require them to refer back to what they have read. There will also be an increased emphasis on building a strong vocabulary so that students can read and understand challenging material.

What your child will be learning in grade five English language arts and literacy

In grade five, students will continue to build important reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills. They will read more challenging literature, articles, and other sources of information and continue to grow their vocabulary. Students will also be expected to understand and clearly summarize what they have learned from readings and classroom discussions, referring to specific evidence and details from the text. Students will write regularly and continue to develop their ability to gather, organize, interpret, and present information. Activities in these areas will include:

- Determining the theme of a story, play, or poem, including how characters respond to challenges
- Comparing and contrasting stories that deal with similar themes or topics
- Explaining how authors use reasons and evidence to support their points or ideas
- Drawing on information from multiple books, articles, or online sources to locate an answer or to solve a problem quickly
- Learning the rules of spoken and written English
- Learning and using new words, including words related to specific subjects (such as science words)
- Understanding figurative language
- Participating in class discussions by listening, asking questions, sharing ideas, and building on the ideas of others
- Giving a class presentation on a topic or telling a story, introducing relevant facts and details in a clear, logical order
- Writing research or opinion papers over extended periods of time

 For example, “She was as quiet as a mouse.”

Partnering with your child’s teacher

Don’t be afraid to reach out to your child’s teacher—you are an important part of your child’s education. Ask to see a sample of your child’s work or bring a sample with you. Ask the teacher questions like:

- Is my child at the level where he/she should be at this point of the school year?
- What do you think is giving my child the most trouble? How can I help my child improve in this area?
- Where is my child excelling? How can I support this success?

In grade five, students will read a wide range of literature, including stories, plays, and poems. Additionally, they will read to learn information about history, the world, science, and other areas. Here are just a few examples of how your child will develop important reading skills across grade levels.

READING LITERATURE

Grade Four Reading

- Students determine the theme of a story, play, or poem from details in the text and summarize the text.
- Students compare and contrast the point of view from which different stories are told, including the difference between first- and third-person accounts.

Grade Five Reading

- Students determine the theme of a story, play, or poem from details in the text, including how characters respond to challenges or how the speaker in a poem reflects upon a topic, and students summarize the text.
- Students describe how a narrator's or speaker's point of view influences how events are described.

Grade Six Reading

- Students determine the theme or central idea of a text and how it is conveyed through particular details and provide a summary of the text without personal opinions or judgments.
- Students explain how an author develops the point of view of the narrator or speaker in a text.

READING FOR INFORMATION

Grade Four Reading

- Students refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.
- Students interpret information presented in charts, graphs, or other visual sources of information and explain how the information contributes to an understanding of the text.

Grade Five Reading

- Students quote accurately from a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.
- Students draw on information from multiple print or digital sources, demonstrating the ability to locate an answer to a question quickly or to solve a problem efficiently.

Grade Six Reading

- Students cite evidence from the text to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
- Students integrate information presented in different media or formats (such as visually or through numbers) as well as in words to develop a coherent understanding of a topic or issue.

As they progress through grade levels, students will be asked more questions that require them to cite details or information from increasingly challenging texts. This will encourage them to become observant and analytical readers.

Writing tasks in grade five may include stories, essays, reports, and persuasive papers. Here are just a few examples of how your child will develop important writing skills across grade levels.

Grade Four Writing

- Students introduce a topic clearly and develop the topic with facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information.
- Students provide a concluding statement or section related to the information or explanation presented.
- Students group related information in paragraphs and sections and use formatting (such as headings), illustrations, and multimedia when useful.
- Students link ideas within categories of information using words and phrases (such as another, for example, also, and because).
- Students use precise language and subject-specific vocabulary.

Grade Five Writing

- Students introduce a topic clearly, providing a general observation and focus, and develop the topic with facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information.
- Students provide a concluding statement or section related to the information or explanation presented.
- Students group related information logically and use formatting (such as headings), illustrations, and multimedia when useful.
- Students link ideas within and across categories of information using words, phrases, and clauses (such as in contrast or especially).
- Students use precise language and subject-specific vocabulary.

Grade Six Writing

- Students introduce a topic and develop the topic with relevant facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information.
- Students provide a concluding statement or section that follows from the information or explanation presented.
- Students organize ideas, concepts, and information using strategies such as definition, classification, comparison/contrast, and cause/effect.
- Students include formatting (such as headings), graphics (such as charts or tables), and multimedia when useful.
- Students use appropriate transitions to clarify the relationships among ideas and concepts.
- Students use precise language and subject-specific vocabulary.
- Students establish and maintain a formal writing style.

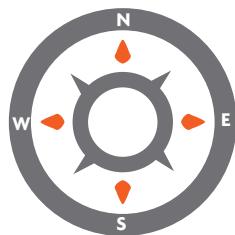

Some writing guidelines may seem similar from year to year. However, with practice at each grade level, students continue to learn and apply the rules of standard written English and to strengthen and expand their vocabulary, use of language, and organization of ideas.

Helping your child learn outside of school

1. Provide time and space for your child to read independently. This time should be free from distractions such as television.
2. Ask your child what he or she learned from reading. Have him or her read the most interesting or useful sections aloud, and discuss how that knowledge can be used in real life.
3. Assist your child in using references such as the Internet or a dictionary to look up unfamiliar words.
4. Keep track of the time that your child spends reading every day. Note what kind of reading materials he or she likes (books, magazines, newspaper articles, the Internet, etc.). Then look for additional materials that would encourage your child to read more.
5. Be sure your child has a library card. Children should select books they are interested in to develop a passion for reading. Many libraries have book clubs and family activities that make reading fun for the entire family.
6. Use technology to help build your child's interest in reading. There are several websites where students can read books or articles online. The computer will help with words the student cannot read independently. Libraries also have computers students can use to access those sites. Feel free to ask a librarian or teacher for suggestions.

APOYANDO A SU HIJO EN QUINTO GRADO
ARTES DEL LENGUAJE EN INGLÉS

EMPIECE AQUÍ >

Las escuelas de los Estados Unidos de América están trabajando para brindar una enseñanza de mayor calidad nunca antes vista.

La manera en que enseñábamos a los estudiantes en el pasado simplemente no los prepara para las exigencias mayores del colegio universitario y las profesiones de hoy día y del futuro. Su escuela al igual que las escuelas de todo el país está trabajando para mejorar la enseñanza y el aprendizaje para asegurar que todos los niños se gradúen de la escuela preparatoria (High School) con las habilidades que necesitan para tener éxito.

Para las artes del lenguaje en inglés y la alfabetización, esto implica tres grandes cambios. Los estudiantes continuarán leyendo y escribiendo. Pero además de los cuentos y literatura, ellos leerán más textos que proporcionen hechos y datos, y otros conocimientos en áreas académicas incluyendo ciencias y ciencias sociales. Los estudiantes leerán textos más desafiantes, y se les harán más preguntas que requieran referirse a lo que han leído para responder. También habrá un mayor énfasis en el desarrollo de un vocabulario sólido para que los estudiantes puedan leer y entender material desafiante.

Lo que su hijo aprenderá durante quinto grado en artes del lenguaje en inglés y alfabetización

En quinto grado, el estudiante continuará desarrollando habilidades importantes en la lectura, y para hablar y escuchar. Leerá literatura, artículos, y otras fuentes de información más desafiantes y continuarán aumentando su vocabulario. El estudiante comprenderá y podrá resumir claramente lo que ha aprendido de las lecturas y discusiones en clase, haciendo referencia a detalles y evidencias específicas del texto. El estudiante escribirá con regularidad y continuará desarrollando su capacidad de recopilar, organizar, interpretar, y presentar información. Las actividades en esas áreas incluirán:

- Determinar el tema de un cuento, obra, o poesía, incluyendo como los personajes responden a retos
- Comparar y contrastar cuentos que traten con temas similares
- Explicar como un autor utiliza razones o motivos y evidencias para apoyar sus puntos o ideas
- Responder con rapidez o resolver un problema con eficacia haciendo uso de información proveniente de múltiples fuentes impresas o digitales
- Aprender las reglas del inglés hablado y escrito
- Aprender y utilizar palabras nuevas, incluyendo palabras relacionadas con materias específicas (como vocabulario usado en las ciencias)
- Entender el lenguaje figurativo
- Participar en discusiones de clase escuchando, haciendo preguntas, desarrollando y compartiendo ideas, y añadiendo a lo que dicen otros
- Hacer una presentación en clase sobre un tema o contar una historia utilizando datos y detalles relevantes y hablando claramente
- Escribir trabajos de investigación o artículos de opinión como proyectos de largo plazo

 Por ejemplo: “Era tan silenciosa como un ratón.”

Colaboración con el maestro de su hijo

No dude en hablar con el maestro de su hijo porque usted es una pieza importante en la educación del niño. Pida ver una muestra del trabajo de su hijo o traiga una muestra consigo. Haga al maestro preguntas de este estilo:

- ¿Se encuentra mi hijo al nivel que debería estar en este momento del curso escolar?
- ¿Qué piensa usted que se le dificulta más a mi hijo? ¿Cómo puedo ayudar a mi hijo a que mejore en esto?
- ¿En qué sobresale mi hijo? ¿Cómo puedo respaldar su éxito?

En quinto grado, su hijo leerá una amplia variedad de literatura, incluyendo relatos, obras, poesías, y prosa. Además, leerá para adquirir información sobre historia, el mundo, las ciencias, y otras áreas. A continuación se encuentran algunos ejemplos de cómo su hijo desarrollará habilidades de lectura importantes a través de los grados escolares.

READING LITERATURE

Lectura en Cuarto Grado

- El estudiante determinará el tema de un cuento, obra o poesía a partir de detalles en el texto y el estudiante podrá resumir el texto.
- El estudiante hará comparación y contraste de los diferentes puntos de vista que se usan para relatar un cuento, notando la diferencia entre los relatos en primera persona y aquellos en tercera persona.

Lectura en Quinto Grado

- El estudiante determinará el tema del cuento, obra, o poesía a partir de detalles en el texto, incluyendo como los personajes responden a desafíos, o como el orador en una poesía reflexiona sobre un tema.
- El estudiante podrá resumir el texto.
- El estudiante describirá como el punto de vista de un narrador determina como se describen los eventos.

Lectura en Sexto Grado

- El estudiante determinará el tema o idea central de un texto y como se desarrolla con particular uso de detalles.
- El estudiante podrá resumir el texto sin incluir su opinión personal.
- El estudiante explicará como el autor desarrolla el punto de vista del narrador en el texto.

Lectura en Cuarto Grado

- El estudiante usará detalles y ejemplos del texto para explicar lo que dice el texto explícitamente y hacer inferencias sobre el texto.
- El estudiante interpretará la representación gráfica y visual de información y explicará como esta representación contribuye al entendimiento del texto.

Lectura en Quinto Grado

- El estudiante sabrá citar con precisión de un texto para explicar lo que explícitamente dice el texto y al hacer inferencias sobre el texto.
- El estudiante obtendrá información de múltiples fuentes impresas o digitales, demostrando la capacidad de responder con rapidez o de resolver un problema con eficacia.

Lectura en Sexto Grado

- El estudiante sabrá citar la evidencia del texto como base de su análisis del mismo. Y usará citas para respaldar las inferencias y conclusiones hechas sobre el texto.
- El estudiante integrará información proveniente de varias representaciones o formatos para desarrollar su entendimiento de un tema. El estudiante integrará la representación gráfica o numérica a la palabra escrita sobre un tema.

Conforme progrese a través de los grados escolares, el estudiante deberá responder a preguntas que requieran citar detalles o información obtenida de textos cada vez más desafiantes. Esto lo motivará a ser un lector más observador y analítico.

Los trabajos de escritura en quinto grado podrían incluir cuentos, ensayos, informes, y artículos de opinión. A continuación se encuentran algunos ejemplos de como su hijo formará habilidades de escritura importantes a través de los grados escolares.

Escritura en Cuarto Grado

- El estudiante presentará claramente un tema y lo desarrollará con datos y hechos, definiciones, detalles concretos, citas bibliográficas, u otra información.
- El estudiante formulará una conclusión relacionada a la información o explicación presentada.
- El estudiante agrupará información relacionada en párrafos o secciones y hará uso de formatos (por ejemplo, usando encabezados), ilustraciones, y representación multimedia cuando sea de utilidad.
- El estudiante conectará ideas dentro de las mismas categorías de información utilizando palabras y frases como another, for example, also, y because.
- El estudiante será preciso en su uso del lenguaje y usará vocabulario perteneciente al tema.

Escritura en Quinto Grado

- El estudiante presentará claramente un tema, haciendo una observación general y desarrollando un enfoque particular. Desarrollará el tema usando datos y hechos, definiciones, detalles concretos, citas bibliográficas, u otra información
- El estudiante formulará una conclusión relacionada a la información o explicación presentada.
- El estudiante agrupará información relacionada en párrafos o secciones y hará uso de formatos (por ejemplo, usando encabezados), ilustraciones, y representación multimedia cuando sea de utilidad.
- El estudiante conectará ideas dentro y entre categorías de información utilizando palabras y frases como in contrast o especially.
- El estudiante será preciso en su uso del lenguaje y usará vocabulario perteneciente al tema.

Escritura en Sexto Grado

- El estudiante presentará un tema, y lo desarrollará usando datos y hechos, definiciones, detalles concretos, citas bibliográficas, u otra información que sean relevantes.
- El estudiante formulará una conclusión relacionada a la información o explicación presentada.
- El estudiante organizará sus ideas, conceptos e información haciendo uso de definiciones, clasificaciones, comparación y contraste, y causa y efecto.
- El estudiante usará formatos (por ejemplo, usando encabezados), ilustraciones, y representación multimedia cuando sean de utilidad.
- El estudiante utilizará conectores gramaticales apropiados para establecer la relación entre ideas y conceptos.
- El estudiante utilizará lenguaje preciso y vocabulario específico sobre el tema.
- El estudiante aprenderá y mantendrá un estilo formal de escritura.

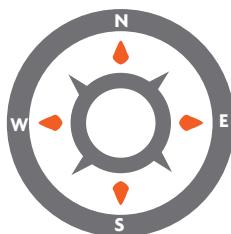

Algunas reglas de escritura podrían parecer similares año tras año, sin embargo con la práctica a través de los grados, el estudiante continuará aprendiendo y aplicando las reglas del inglés escrito estándar. Asimismo, continuará fortaleciendo y aumentando su vocabulario, su uso del lenguaje y su organización de ideas.

Ayudando a su hijo a aprender fuera de la escuela

1. Disponga de tiempo y lugar para que su hijo lea independientemente. Este tiempo para la lectura deberá estar libre de distracciones como la televisión.
2. Pregúntele a su hijo qué ha aprendido del material leído y como puede utilizar ese conocimiento en la vida real. Pídale que lea en voz alta las secciones que encuentra más interesantes o útiles de lo que este leyendo.
3. Ayude a su hijo a utilizar recursos como el internet y el diccionario para buscar palabras que desconoce.
4. Haga un seguimiento del tiempo que lee su hijo cada día. Tome nota de los materiales de lectura que su hijo lee (libros, revistas, artículos de periódicos, el internet, etc.) Busque materiales adicionales para continuar motivándolo a leer.
5. Asegúrese de que su hijo tenga una tarjeta de la biblioteca. Los niños deben elegir libros que les interesen para desarrollar un gusto por la lectura. Muchas bibliotecas tienen círculos de lectores y actividades familiares para fomentar la lectura de manera divertida para toda la familia.
6. Utilice la tecnología para fomentar en su hijo el interés por la lectura. Hay muchas páginas web en donde los estudiantes pueden leer libros o artículos en línea. Las bibliotecas tienen computadoras que el estudiante pueden utilizar para acceder a estos sitios web, incluyendo algunos sitios web que pueden ayudar al estudiante que tenga dificultad para leer algunas palabras independientemente. No dude en pedirle sugerencias al maestro o a la bibliotecaria.

1. Read the Big Ideas and Key Understandings and Synopsis. Please do not read this to the students. This is a description for teachers, about the big ideas and key understanding that students should take away after completing this task.

Big Ideas and Key Understandings

In dangerous situations, thinking about what you know can help you.

SEL 2C. Students use effective decision-making skills.

Synopsis

"Earthquake Terror" is the story of how 12-year-old Jonathan protects his younger sister, Abby, during an earthquake. Jonathan, Abby, and their dog, Moose, are left on a deserted island while their father takes their mother to the hospital. In seeking protection for himself and Abby, Jonathan recalls what he learned from annual earthquake drills at school.

2. Read entire main selection text.

3. Re-read the main selection text while noting the stopping points for the Text Dependent Questions and teaching Vocabulary.

During Teaching

1. Students read the entire main selection text independently.
2. Teacher reads the main selection text aloud with students following along. (Depending on how complex the text is and the amount of support needed by students, the teacher may choose to reverse the order of steps 1 and 2.)
3. Students and teacher re-read the text, stopping to discuss and respond to text dependent questions. A variety of methods can be used to structure the reading and discussion (i.e.: whole class discussion, think-pair-share, independent written response, group work, etc.)

Culminating Task

Re-read, Think, Discuss, Write

Find the times in the story that Jonathan reacts to danger or uncertainty by thinking about what he knows. Describe each situation and explain how it helps or does not help.

- Page 30 - He is uncertain about why Moose is acting strange. He thinks it has to do with Moose sensing his worry about his mother. In this case, it is not helpful because Moose was likely sensing the earthquake. It did not, however, do any harm.
- Page 30 - He felt jumpy in the woods and thought moving to the camper would "calm" him.
- Page 32 - He "...heard a deep rumbling sound..." and thought about what it could be and evaluated his thoughts as he went along: thunder (skies clear), hunters (cried "don't shoot), a bomb (who would bomb a deserted campground)
- Page 35 - He thought about earthquake drills in school and how they might help him to prepare for earthquakes in a different setting or place.
- Page 38 - Abby screamed, and he comforted her by telling her it "was only an earthquake." He knew it was dangerous, but he didn't want her to worry.
- Page 44 - He told Abby, "...we could have been killed" and realized this would make her nervous, so he quickly said, "but we weren't."

Additional Task (Optional)

Looking at the illustrations throughout the text, explain how each one shows what is happening in the text at that point in the story.

- Page 31 - Moose, acting strangely, led the way as Jonathan helped his younger sister (who had partially paralyzed legs) back to the campground.

- Page 35 - With the ground rolling, Jonathan tried to catch Abby as she screamed and fell.
- Page 37 - Trees crashing and debris flying, Jonathan tries to get to Abby.
- Page 38 - Jonathan finds a space for them to hide under the trunks of two fallen redwoods.
- Page 41 - They call to Moose who, trembling with fear, joins them in their shelter.
- Page 42 - With the earthquake over, Jonathan helps Abby from under the tree.

- Page 44 - With Moose at his side, Jonathan looks at Abby's knee, thankful that the scratch was their only injury.
- Using evidence from throughout the text, describe the relationship of Moose and Jonathan.*

- Jonathan had gotten Moose from an animal shelter nearly six years ago. The two of them took long walks, played games, and swam together.
- When Abby had her accident and her parents focused their attention on her, Jonathan and Moose became even closer.
- Before the earthquake, Moose sensed danger and tried to alert Jonathan and Abby by barking, running towards the trail, and acting strangely (30). Jonathan "looked around in all directions... listened hard, wondering if Moose had heard something that Jonathan couldn't hear" (32). Moose stuck with Abby and Jonathan through the earthquake: "Moose stood beside her, his head low" (35). Moose came to their shelter when Jonathan called: He "huddled beside Jonathan, pawing at Jonathan's shoulder" (40). As the earthquake ended, "Moose, still trembling, licked his hand" (41).

Standards of Mathematical Practice

- Make sense of problems and persevere in solving them.
- Reason abstractly and quantitatively.
- Construct viable arguments and critique the reasoning of others.
- Model with mathematics.
- Use appropriate tools strategically.
- Attend to precision.
- Look for and make use of structure.
- Look for and express regularity in repeated reasoning.
