FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2014 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. SB171

Analysis

This bill would offer the option of potential changes to the current structure of multidisciplinary child protection teams (MDTs). It suggests four core team participants and optional participants who may be invited by consensus of the core team, as needed, and adds a representative with jurisdiction over juvenile justice to the list of invitees.

The current language of 47.14.300 indicates that “persons familiar with 25 USC 1901-1963” (Indian Child Welfare Act or ICWA) may be invited to join the MDT. The new language specifically designates that this invitee will be a representative of an Indian tribe as defined under ICWA, and as designated by the tribe.

It adds that Multidisciplinary Teams can accept referrals from Law Enforcement, provide consultation to child abuse or neglect investigations, and ensure child abuse or neglect investigations are coordinated and conducted by trained investigators.

This bill would require Multidisciplinary Teams to meet at least monthly.

This bill clarifies that investigators of child abuse and neglect should avoid duplicative, rather than multiple, interviews of the child in question.

The department expects no fiscal impact from the proposed legislation.
