

Component: Prisoner TransportationContribution to Department's Mission

Preserve public peace; protect life, property, and resources.

Core Services

- Transport prisoners needing pre-arraignment and post-arraignment escort, as well as convicted prisoners between in-state facilities and out-of-state prisons.
- Coordinate transport of prisoners using the services of state troopers, municipal police officers, and court services officers.

Major Component Accomplishments in 2014

The prisoner transport volume for the Division of Alaska State Troopers (AST) increased approximately 12.8 percent from FY2013 to FY2014. The division moved 69,453 prisoners in FY2013 and 78,356 prisoners in FY2014.

There were no prisoner escapes or significant injuries to any personnel during this immense number of prisoner transports.

Key Component Challenges

Prisoner transportation costs increase with air and ground transportation costs. Airport security measures have increased the time required to facilitate these transports, thus increasing the expense. The department has put into practice numerous cost saving procedures, but most of the costs associated with prisoner transportation are out of the department's control. The Alaska Court System and the Department of Corrections (DOC) make the decisions regarding when to transport prisoners. The DOC is under mandate by the courts to limit the number of inmates at all institutions, which often requires DPS assistance to balance the inmate population among different institutions.

The Alaska Court System continues to expand its infrastructure and add courtrooms. Court hours have recently expanded to better serve the public. Due to a policy change from the Attorney General's Office, more criminal cases are expected to be going to trial. Each additional courtroom and policy change represents additional prisoner transports, court process, and court security needs which increases the challenges to the Department's fiscal and personnel resources.

Significant Changes in Results to be Delivered in FY2016

AST anticipates the number of prisoner moves to continue to increase as well as an increase in court security needs. AST's expectation is to continue to provide prisoner transport with zero escapes.
