WASILLA — For the third time in less than nine months, city council members were at odds Monday about how to address ethical concerns involving city officials or employees.

The dustup occurred after local resident Bill Bruu accused mayor Verne Rupright of working on behalf of a developer with regard to the Parks Highway upgrade.

After Bruu's remarks, Rupright can be heard on the official recording of the meeting uttering an expletive and "I'll kill you." But Rupright has denied that his remarks were directed at Bruu.
