6 FINDINGS. The legislature finds that

7 (1) high rates of heroin use and prescription opioid misuse remain the driving 8 factor behind the unintentional drug overdose epidemic and related deaths in the state;

9 (2) in 2012, the state's prescription opioid overdose death rate was more than 10 double the rate in the United States, and the state's heroin-associated overdose death rate was 11 50 percent higher than the national rate;

12 (3) from 2009 to 2015, the number of heroin-associated deaths in the state 13 more than quadrupled;

14 (4) since 2015, deaths from fentanyl and new synthetic opioids have been

1 documented in the state;

2 (5) to address this public health emergency, on February 14, 2017, the 3 governor issued a declaration of disaster emergency;

4 (6) in the declaration, the governor authorized the commissioner of health 5 and social services and the state medical officer to coordinate a response to the disaster,
6 including establishing a statewide overdose response program and a statewide medical standing 7 order allowing local and regional overdose response programs, health care officials, first 8 responders, and the general public to have the ability to dispense and administer directly an 9 opioid overdose drug;

10 (7) a declaration of disaster emergency under AS 26.23.020 may not remain 11 in effect longer than 30 days unless extended by the Alaska State Legislature; and

12 (8) it is necessary to extend the declaration of disaster emergency issued 13 February 14, 2017, to address adequately the opioid epidemic.
