ASSOCIATED REGULATIONS

Does the bill direct, or will the bill result in, regulation changes adopted by your agency? No
If yes, by what date are the regulations to be adopted, amended or repealed? n/a

Why this fiscal note differs from previous version:

Previous fiscal note showed $1,200.0 (2 percent federal) reduction in the Foster Care Base Rate fiscal note. The $1,200 is now spread across the components based on FY2016 allocated expenditures per component. For Children's Services Training $36.0 federal was offset by $36.0 general fund. ($1,200.0 x 3 percent).

FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2017 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. HB 151

Analysis

Section 17 adds new subsection AS 47.14.112, Training and workload standards; report to legislature, to implement workload standards and training programs for the Office of Children's Services front line case carrying staff. The amendment recommends a longer training period of a minimum of six weeks.

The Department's current training occurs over a period of three weeks. The Department maintains a contract with the University of Alaska Anchorage, Child Welfare Academy, in the amount of $917.5 for the existing three week training. An additional $784.2 would be required to extend the training for front line case carrying staff to six weeks.

Section 2 amends AS 25.23.210(b), Amount and duration of subsidy payments, extending adoption and guardianship subsidy benefits for children for three additional years, from age 18 up to a child's 21st birthday.

For many years, the Office of Children's Services ended foster care payments and subsidy assistance at the age of 18. In 2008, the federal guidance through the Fostering Connections Act allowed for states to increase foster care and adoption/guardianship assistance programs to cover youth to the 21st birthday. Statutory changes in 2010 allowed for foster youth to remain in foster care to their 21st birthday. In order for a state to claim Title IV-E reimbursement for the population of youth from ages 18 to their 21st birthday, the state must claim these federal benefits for both the foster care and the adoption and guardianship programs.

The Office of Children's Services determined that it would be cost prohibitive to pursue federal claiming under the adoption and guardianship subsidy program and therefore elected not to claim Title IV-E federal reimbursement for either program for this older, age 18-21 age bracket. Instead, the Division elected to provide foster care payments to youth continuing in foster care beyond their 18th birthday, with general funds, only.

On 12/31/2016 the unduplicated number of children in foster care that received a Title IV-E foster care administrative payment was 1,574 and the total population was 2,351 (eligible and federally-reimbursable AND the eligible and not federally-reimbursable). To come up with the penetration rate the Division must take 1,574 divided by 2,351 = 66.95 percent. If the Division were to extend the subsidy program to the 21st birthday, as this legislation proposes, approximately 80 children would be added to the denominator of the federal claiming formula, which would result in an approximate two percent reduction in the penetration rate overall, which is applied to our total administrative costs.

It is estimated that every 1 percent decrease in the penetration rate decreases federal revenue by $600.0. To determine the impact to the Children's Services Training component, the Department took an average percentage of cost allocated federal revenue based on FY2016 allocated expenditures for each component (3 percent x $1,200.0 = $36.0 loss in federal revenue for the Children's Services Training component).

Current anticipated federal reimbursement rate = 43 percent for this component.
Any loss in federal revenue would increase the need for general fund expenditures.

For total anticipated FY2018 costs of $784.2, original fund source split, adjusted for the $36.0 fund source switch:

Federal:	$337.2	($36.0)	= $301.2
General Fund:	$447.0	$36.0	= $483.0
	$784.2	0.0	= $784.2

The same fund source adjustment process is used for calculating out year costs.
