Governor Bill Walker
Box 110001
Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Governor Walker:

I am writing to express interest in appointment to the Commercial Fisheries Entry Commission (CFEC).

For the past three decades I have been executive director of a commercial fishing organization representing fishermen who fish state and federal waters for salmon, halibut, and a number of other species. As a result, I have acquired extensive knowledge in fisheries and habitat conservation, resource management, and a wide array of state, federal, and international regulatory policies and relevant law that underpins them. I am familiar with the scope of work CFEC tackles, and throughout my career have both consulted and worked with CFEC commissioners and staff. I welcome a new challenge and opportunities for learning that a CFEC appointment would bring.

Of concern to me is the imminent departure of both current CFEC commissioners. The value of their combined experience and institutional memory cannot be over-stated; they will leave big shoes to fill. It is my hope that the knowledge and experience I bring to the table would be of assistance to CFEC, the state, and coastal communities. But no matter who is selected to fill the available commissioner seats, it is important that at least one of the appointees has a good understanding of the challenges confronting the seafood industry in general, and the harvesting sector in particular.

Healthy, sustainable fisheries are a source of pride for fishermen and the state's residents. Carefully developed limited entry programs administered by CFEC are a fundamental part of the formula for success that has led to the world class standing of Alaska's commercial fisheries. Working to help maintain Alaska's vibrant fisheries, and building upon the solid foundation laid by current and past commissioners, is what makes service at CFEC of particular interest to me.

I look forward to discussing with you the opportunity to serve in a commissioner's post at CFEC.

Best regards,

Dale Kelley
