I currently am the Chief of Police for the City of Ketchikan. I supervise a staff of twenty three sworn personal and a support staff of twelve which includes eight emergency medical dispatchers. Our current budget is five and a half million dollars. We provide twenty four hour police services to our community year round. In addition we provide a safe destination for over one million visitors last year. I have been with the Ketchikan Police department for twenty two years and have worked my way up from being a Patrol Officer. I have experience with all aspects of police work and the inner workings of our department.

Skills

I have great interpersonal skills, both verbal and written. I am an active listener and have the ability to understand an issue and work to correct it. I have a proven track record of sound judgment and leadership. I am able to build trust and establish open lines of communication. I work well with other agencies to find solutions to mutual problems.
