SB 71 REVISOR'S BILL

The revisor's bill is a work product from Legislative Legal Services that is required by AS 01.05.036. The revisor of statutes, legislative legal staff, and the publisher review ten to twelve titles of state statutes, including the Constitution, each year and correct any deficiencies and conflicts, and delete obsolete provisions in statutes.

The Department of Law also reviews the draft, makes recommendations, and approves the draft legislation before introduction. The draft legislation is then reviewed and approved by the Legislative Council and forwarded to the House and Senate Rules Committees for introduction.

The revisor's bill is comprised generally of "clean-up provisions" and corrections to make the statutes consistent, conform with the Manual of Legislative Drafting, and update cites to federal law. The Revisor's Bill does not make any substantive change to the law.
