Background

Beth is an Audit partner and serves as the managing partner of KPMG's Anchorage office. She brings over 25 years of experience in providing audit and accounting services to both public and nonpublic entities.

Professional and industry experience

Over her career, Beth has provided accounting and auditing services to a broad range of clients in a wide variety of industries, including construction, government contracting, oilfield services, natural resources, utilities, investment management, and industrial products. She has significant experience working with Alaska Native Corporations and is well versed in the provisions of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act.

Her experience includes financial statement and integrated audits, agreed-upon procedures, compliance attestation engagements, and accounting assistance services specific to income tax provisions, revenue recognition, lease accounting, and consolidation analysis.

Beth completed a rotation in KPMG's Department of Professional Practice, where she assisted audit engagement teams and clients with the resolution of technical accounting issues. Beth's core strengths and accomplishments include:

- Addressing technical accounting matters, including business combinations, goodwill, income taxes, and consolidation.
- Presenting new pronouncements and technical accounting and financial reporting matters to clients and audit committee members as well as to others within the firm.
- Managing audit engagements for companies with complex organizational structures.

Beth is a frequent speaker on technical accounting matters to firm personnel and external organizations.

Other activities and recognition

Beth has served many years on the boards of directors for local not-for-profit organizations. She currently serves on the boards of directors for United Way of Anchorage and Junior Achievement of Alaska, and on the University of Alaska Anchorage College of Business and Public Policy Advisory Board.
