FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2022 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. CSHB 172

Analysis

This bill allows non-hospital facilities to be designated as “evaluation facilities” for involuntary commitment, expanding capacity for psychiatric stabilization and treatment. Establishing crisis residential centers for providing short term treatment and evaluation for those experiencing a mental health crisis should alleviate some burdens on public safety and current facilities with limited capacity.

Patients subject to psychiatric holds have a right to legal representation in some circumstances and this would continue for those utilizing these centers. The Public Defender Agency would continue representing people who are facing involuntary commitment proceedings or determinations in these facilities, as it does presently for those in hospital facilities throughout Alaska. With the creation of more facilities where clients may be located, and these holds litigated, the Agency will need increased attorney and staff capacity for clients representation. The hearing schedules for these types of hearings are often in conflict with other court calendars, and the clients often need immediate and in person contact to best communicate with their attorneys. Additionally, commitment proceedings require extensive staff time to track and monitor orders and release dates on behalf of clients as these vulnerable Alaskans may not be able to effectively monitor these dates on their own.

The Agency will need the following positions to address the increased workload:

Add Attorney 1-4 (range 24, Anchorage)

Personal Services - $152.0

Indirect rates- $13.7

Case costs (experts, transcripts, etc.) -$5.4

Travel -$2.6

Commodities - $1.1

Add Paralegal 2 (range 16, Anchorage)
