

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Alaska:

Section 1. AS 29.10.246 is amended to read:

Sec. 29.10.246. Assessments for Improvements Against Property Benefited.

The council may assess against the real property specially benefited by the improvements two-thirds of the cost of laying out, grading, constructing or repairing a street, alley or sidewalk, constructing or repairing a sewer or drain, constructing or repairing water supply and distribution systems, acquiring and constructing parks or playgrounds or making changes in channels of streams or watercourses or constructing, erecting, strengthening or repairing bulkheads, embankments or dikes for streams or watercourses. The costs shall be assessed against the real property specifically benefited in proportion to the benefits received by each tract of land. However, no assessment may be levied for an improvement unless the improvement is requested of the city council in writing by the owners of at least one-half in value of the property to be specifically benefited by the improvement. The expense assessed may include the cost to the city of acquiring premises for the improvements.

Sec. 2. AS 29.10.297 is amended to read:

Sec. 29.10.297. Street, Water and Sewer Improvements by Districts. In cities of the first class, the council, by general ordinance or special ordinance or both may create and maintain street, water and sewer improvement districts, and establish, change and revise their boundaries from time to time; erect, build, establish, lay out, alter, open, improve and repair streets, sewers, water supply and distribution systems, avenues, sidewalks, alleys, bridges, squares and other public highways and places within the city, and drain, sprinkle and light them; remove all obstructions; establish grades; grade, plank, pave, macadamize, gravel and curb them, in whole or in part, and construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks and crosswalks, and levy, apportion, assess and collect the cost or any part of it against and from the property within the improvement district. The council may determine what work shall be done or improvements made at the expense, in whole or in part, of the owners adjoining, contiguous or proximate property, or non-contiguous and other properties within an improvement district specially benefited thereby, and provide for the manner of making, apportioning, and collecting assessments therefor.

Sec. 3. This Act takes effect on the day after its passage and approval or on the day it becomes law without such approval.
