FOURTEENTH LEGISLATURE - SECOND SESSION

JUNEAU, ALASKA

THURSDAY

March 20, 1986

Sixty-seventh Day

Pursuant to adjournment, the Senate was called to order by President Bennett at 11:15 a.m.

The roll showed eighteen members present. Senator Rodey was excused from a call of the Senate. Senator Fahrenkamp was absent.

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Arssalan Sadighi of the Juneau Baha'i Assembly.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited.

Senator Halford moved and asked unanimous consent that the journal for the sixty-sixth legislative day and Senate Supplement No. 58 be approved as certified by the Secretary. Without objection, it was so ordered.

COMMUNICATIONS

Posted 3/20/86:

Proposed changes in the State Board of Education Regulations dealing with school construction and teacher certification, to implement and make specific AS 14.11.100 and AS 14.20.020(c) and (d)

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

SB 251

The Health, Education and Social Services Committee considered SENATE BILL NO. 251 (regulation of the practice of psychology; efd) and recommended it be replaced with

CS FOR SENATE BILL NO. 251 (HESS)

Senator Fahrenkamp, Chairman and Senator Josephson signed "do pass". Senator DeVries signed "no recommendation".

Fiscal note is zero.

Analysis from Department of Commerce and Economic Development, Occupational Licensing: "This legislation makes amendments to the educational program requirements for psychologists and psychological associates. The bill also allows psychological associates to petition the board for 'independent' status upon completing five years of supervised practice. No new costs or revenues are expected to be generated by these proposed amendments."

LETTER OF INTENT FOR CSSB 251 (HESS)

CSSB 251 (HESS) directs the State Board of Psychologist and Psychological Associate Examiners to adopt regulations identifying criteria for programs of graduate study in psychology for the purposes of licensure, and to present those regulations to the legislature no later than the 10th day of the first session of the 15th Alaska State Legislature. It is the intent of the Senate Committee on Health, Education and Social Services that program criteria be based on the following:

For a program of graduate study for a doctorate degree:

1. The doctoral education and training in psychology are offered in an institution of higher education accredited by one of the regional accrediting bodies recognized by the Council of Postsecondary Accreditation.
2. The doctoral program is publicly identified as a psychology program, and is specified as such in pertinent institutional catalogs and brochures.
3. The psychology program stands as a recognizable, coherent organizational entity within the institution.
4. Psychologists have clear authority and primary responsibility for the academic core and specialty preparation, whether or not the program involves multiple administrative lines.
5. There is an identifiable core of psychology faculty.
6. There is an identifiable body of students who are matriculated in the psychology program for the doctoral degree.
7. The psychology program is an organized, integrated sequence of study.
8. The program requires the equivalent of three full-time academic years of graduate study:

a. Two years of which are at the institution from which the doctoral degree is granted.

b. One year of which is in full-time residence at the institution from which the doctoral degree is granted.

9. The program requires students to acquire knowledge in the following program components:

a. Methodology and History. Systematic preparation in scientific standards and responsibilities, research design and methodology, quantitative methods, and historical foundations in psychology.

b. Foundation in psychology. Coursework in each of the four following areas of study:

i. biological bases of behavior
(physiological psychology, comparative psychology, neuropsychology, psychopharmacology)

ii. cognitive-affective bases of behavior (learning, memory, perception, cognition, thinking, motivation, emotion)

iii. social bases of behavior (social psychology, cultural, ethnic, group processes, sex roles, organizational behavior)

iv. individual differences (personality theory, human development, individual differences, abnormal psychology, psychology of women, psychology of the handicapped, psychology of the minority experience)

c. Additional preparation in the area of specialization.

i. knowledge and use of ethics, guidelines, standards.

ii. supervised practicum and/or laboratory experiences appropriate to the area of practice, teaching, or research in psychology specialization.

iii. advanced preparation appropriate to the area of specialization. Internship takes place in a specialized doctoral program following the supervised practicum and/or laboratory experience and as such is not within the purview of the designation process.

10. Programs accredited by the American Psychological Association Education and Credentialing Committee are recognized as meeting the program definition.

For a program of graduate study for a master's degree:

1. The master's level education in psychology is offered in an institution of higher education accredited by one of the regional accrediting bodies recognized by the Council of Postsecondary Accreditation.

2. The master's level program is publicly identified as a psychology program, and is specified as such in pertinent institutional catalogs and brochures.

3. The psychology program stands as a recognizable, coherent organizational entity within the institution.

4. Psychologists have clear authority and primary responsibility for the academic core and specialty preparation, whether or not the program involves multiple administrative lines.

5. There is an identifiable core of psychology faculty.

6. There is an identifiable body of students who are matriculated in the psychology program for the master's degree.

7. The psychology program is an organized, integrated sequence of study.
