ALASKA STATE LEGISLATURE

FOURTEENTH LEGISLATURE - SECOND SESSION

JUNEAU, ALASKA

TUESDAY

April 29, 1986

One Hundred seventh Day

Pursuant to adjournment, the Senate was called to order by President Bennett at 10:47 a.m.

The roll showed eighteen members present. Senator Sackett was absent on state business. Senator Ziegler was absent due to illness.

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Jon Paden of the Church of Christ. Senator DeVries moved and asked unanimous consent that the prayer be spread. Without objection, it was so ordered.

"Our loving God,

We thank You for life.

We recognize that from time to time we are subject to common frailties. We ask Your forgiveness when we may have made mistakes.

But our prayer is for strength that we may continue to make wise decisions on behalf of Alaska's people. They have given us a trust, and, dear God, our heartfelt desire is to serve them.

We do not ask for tomorrow: Today's work is enough to challenge us. Grant us, for this day, a clear vision and purpose.

I come to You in the name of Jesus Christ.

Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited.

Senator Halford moved and asked unanimous consent that the journal for the one hundred sixth legislative day and Senate Supplement No. 72 be approved as certified by the Secretary. Without objection, it was so ordered.

Fiscal note is zero.

Letter of Intent for CSSB 408 (FIN)

It is the intent of the Legislature that the Department utilize the following methodology to implement the formula contained in Senate Bill No. 408.

I. Calculation of Instructional Units (AS 14.17.041):

- A) Elementary school units are calculated using schedule (a), except for those districts which fall under schedule (f). Units are based on the district elementary school ADM (grades K-6 and pre-elementary special education students) as a total, except in the case of elementary schools in distinct communities more than twenty miles distant from district headquarters or inaccessible by road. Units for each school more than twenty miles distant from district headquarters or inaccessible by road are counted separately.
- B) Secondary school (grades 7-12) units are calculated using schedule (b), except for those districts which fall under schedule (f). Each high school's ADM and units are counted separately. Junior high schools are not counted separately from high schools, except when located in a distinct community without any other secondary school.

- C) For districts falling under schedules (a) and (b), instructional units for sites offering only grades K-8 are computed using schedule (a) only.
- D) Combined secondary and elementary units for single city municipal school districts are calculated using schedule (f). Units are based on the districtwide ADM (K-12 and pre-elementary special education). For districts with less than 500 ADM, units for ADM from 61 - 499 are calculated with that clause from schedule (f). Districts with 500 - 999 ADM use that schedule (f) clause to calculate units for all ADM over 500.

School year 1986 - 1987 projected initial enrollments were employed in our calculations for Steps I. A) - C).

- E) Vocational education units are calculated with schedule (c). Units are based on districtwide FTE ADM. We used 1985 actual enrollment as a proxy.
- F) Special education units are calculated according to schedule (d). Units are to be based on districtwide ADM. Unweighted 1986 - 1987 enrollment projections were used.
- G) Bilingual education units are calculated with schedule (e). Units are based on districtwide weighted ADM. The weights used were those in 1978 regulations. Categories "A" and "B" ADM count as 1 ADM, "C" and "D" as .2 ADM, and "E" as .1 ADM. 1985 actual enrollment as a proxy in the absence of enrollment projections by language categories were used.
- H) Correspondence education units are calculated using the elementary education schedule (a). For districts using schedule (f), correspondence ADM are added to K-12 ADM for calculation of the districtwide units under that schedule.

II. Remote School Instructional Units (AS 14.17.031(c)):

- A) Remote school units for each district are calculated using the schedule in 14.17.031(c). Remote schools have been defined as all schools with 32 or fewer ADM, excluding schools in Anchorage and Fairbanks, per 1978 DOE practice.

III. Each district's instructional units calculated under steps I and II are summed and multiplied by the district's instructional unit allotment.

- IV. Each district's basic need (AS 14.17.021(b)) is calculated by multiplying the instructional unit amount by the number of the district's instructional units per step III.
- V. State aid for each district is determined by multiplying the basic need from Step IV by each district's equalized percentage (AS 14.17.021(c)). Equalized percentage for each district is equal to  $1 - ((1 - 97\%) \times V_i/V_s)$ .  $V_i$  equals the full and true value of taxable real and personal property per ADM within a city/borough district and  $V_s$  equals the average valuation per ADM for all city/borough districts. State aid must equal at least 97% of basic need. Thus  $V_i/V_s$  is effectively capped at 1.00.

General Methodological Procedures: All ADM's and all Instructional Units were rounded upward.

Further, it is the intent of the legislature that the Department of Education exercise its statutory authority to require school districts to submit to the department any information or reports which are reasonably necessary to assist the department in the establishment of a management information system for public schools to provide accurate and consistent data on numbers of students, personnel, revenues, and expenditures for each district.

Further, it is the intent of the legislature that funds remaining in the secondary formula account after the allocation required under AS 14.17.023(a) be used to cover emergency, unique and special education circumstances. For example, the Lake and Peninsula School District faces unique circumstances in providing basic education in its 14 schools. These 14 schools are scattered over a wide area, as large as some states in the lower 48. The schools are not serviced by regular transportation services. The cost of getting basic supplies to the schools can run as high as 300% greater than adjacent school districts, and as much 1000% greater than Alaska school districts which are located in the State's road system.

Further, it is the intent of the legislature that special education circumstances that have an enormous financial impact like Kake School District with three multiple handicapped children should receive funding through AS 14.17.023(b).

Further, it is the intent of the legislature that the Department of Education draft regulations to accommodate these types of unique and special education situations. Capital projects may not be funded from the emergency, unique or special education account.
