ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

HB 273 adds to the Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act disclosure of information about a subscriber, or other user of provided Internet access services, by the Internet service provider to a third party without the subscriber's permission. This prohibition would not apply to disclosure of such information to law enforcement in the course of an investigation. The subscriber could bring a civil action against the Internet service provider for violation of this section.

This bill is not anticipated to have a fiscal impact on the Department of Law.
