ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary.)

State agency civil liability exposure for consequential loss arising from the Y2K date change and what Risk Management might pay in future liability claims and defense costs will be reduced by this legislation.
 Due to the uncertainty that future Y2K claims will even occur, the extent of such savings is not possible to forecast. The immunity provisions should preclude legal actions – thereby reducing future defense costs at the very least.
 The state funds its liability coverage provided through Risk Management on a "cash flow" basis (appropriating only the amounts expected to be paid the next fiscal year) collected solely through interagency receipts (cost of risk allocations) assessed each agency. Future year liability premium assessments will reflect the cost reductions actually realized by this legislation as premiums are developed from actual claims expenses incurred.
 No immediate negative fiscal impact can be shown due to outstanding unfunded liabilities.
