ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

Alaska's statewide tobacco-sales-to-minors enforcement efforts were funded for that past three years on a grant from the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). In March 2000 this funding ended abruptly when the US Supreme Court ruled that the FDA had no regulatory authority over tobacco. Since that time, funding has been diverted from community-based tobacco prevention and control efforts, as well as alcohol and drug abuse prevention and treatment, to continue enforcement activities. Currently, federal substance and alcohol abuse treatment funds are threatened to be reduced because of high tobacco sales to youth noncompliance rates.

An effective enforcement program includes community-based enforcement, year-round enforcement checks, accountability of sales staff and vendors, and vendor education and training. This bill would enable such a program. It also would provide revenues to offset part of the program costs. Program costs would include the following:

ANALYSIS: (continued)

$72,095 for personnel costs include a full-time project coordinator, responsible for: (1) facilitating an inter-departmental working group with the Division of Public Health, the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse, the Civil and Criminal Divisions of the Department of Law, the Department of Public Safety, and the Division of Occupational Licensing; (2) developing an interagency working agreement; (3) developing vendor education; (4) coordinating enforcement efforts; (5) administering contracts with local police departments; and (6) facilitating community education and community development. This line also includes 10% of the existing tobacco prevention and control program manager who is responsible for coordinating the overall tobacco prevention and control program, as well as 25% of an existing part-time administrative clerk II. The expenditure line is projected to increase over the next 5 years to cover annual meritorious increases.

$60,860 for travel costs include: (1) 18 coordination trips for project and program coordinators to meet with community-based partners and the Alaska Tobacco Control Alliance (ATCA); (2) transporting enforcement staff and youth to communities where investigations will occur; and (3) project coordinator attendance at the annual Synar conference.

$344,400 in contractual services costs include: (1) contracts with local police departments and officers to conduct the enforcement checks (approximately 1,000 checks will occur each year); (2) contracts to design, print, and distribute vendor educational materials to assist vendors in meeting state law; (3) training of vendors in the use of these materials; (4) RSAs with the Departments of Law and Commerce and Economic Development for adjudicating noncompliance cases; and (5) other administrative costs.

$2,000 is included for office supplies and program materials.

$8,500 is included for computer equipment and a workstation in the FY02.
